

THE WEATHER

Strong to gale force east northeast winds. Cloudy or overcast with frequent squally showers and periods of rain. At noon Temp: 79 degrees. Humid: 92 per cent.

CHINA MAIL

Established 1845

No. 37685

TUESDAY, JUNE 7, 1960.

LATE FINAL

PAN AM is the way to go to ROME and all Europe

175 miles south of Hongkong at noon APPROACHING STORM EASES

Slight loss of intensity as she moves north Severe tropical storm Mary is now 175 miles south-south-west of Hongkong and getting closer every hour. In a statement at noon today the Director of the Royal Observatory said this in a statement at noon today.

"It has decreased slightly in intensity but is moving in a generally northerly direction which is bringing it closer to Hongkong."

"Winds have been reaching to gale force at times during the night and gales are expected to become more general today. The highest gust so far recorded at the Royal Observatory was 53 knots.

No. 7 signal

"The local Storm Signal No. 7 is still hoisted." The storm is forecast to move north to north-northeast at five to seven knots for the next 24 hours.

Winds of 40 knots have been reported within 180 miles of the centre in the southwest quadrant of the storm.

The Royal Observatory could not say for certain at present when the storm will reach Hongkong "because there are so many complicated factors involved."

Ocean liners which arrived in Hongkong were prevented from docking by the storm weather.

Two of them arrived yesterday and the rest, this morning. They all sought shelter in Kowloon Bay except the President Cleveland.

The President Cleveland which arrived at 7 this morning should have docked at the Kowloon Wharf at 9 a.m. but was delayed until noon.

Turned back

The Tsimshau which was scheduled to arrive from Japan sometime this morning had to turn back on her course on approaching Hongkong last night.

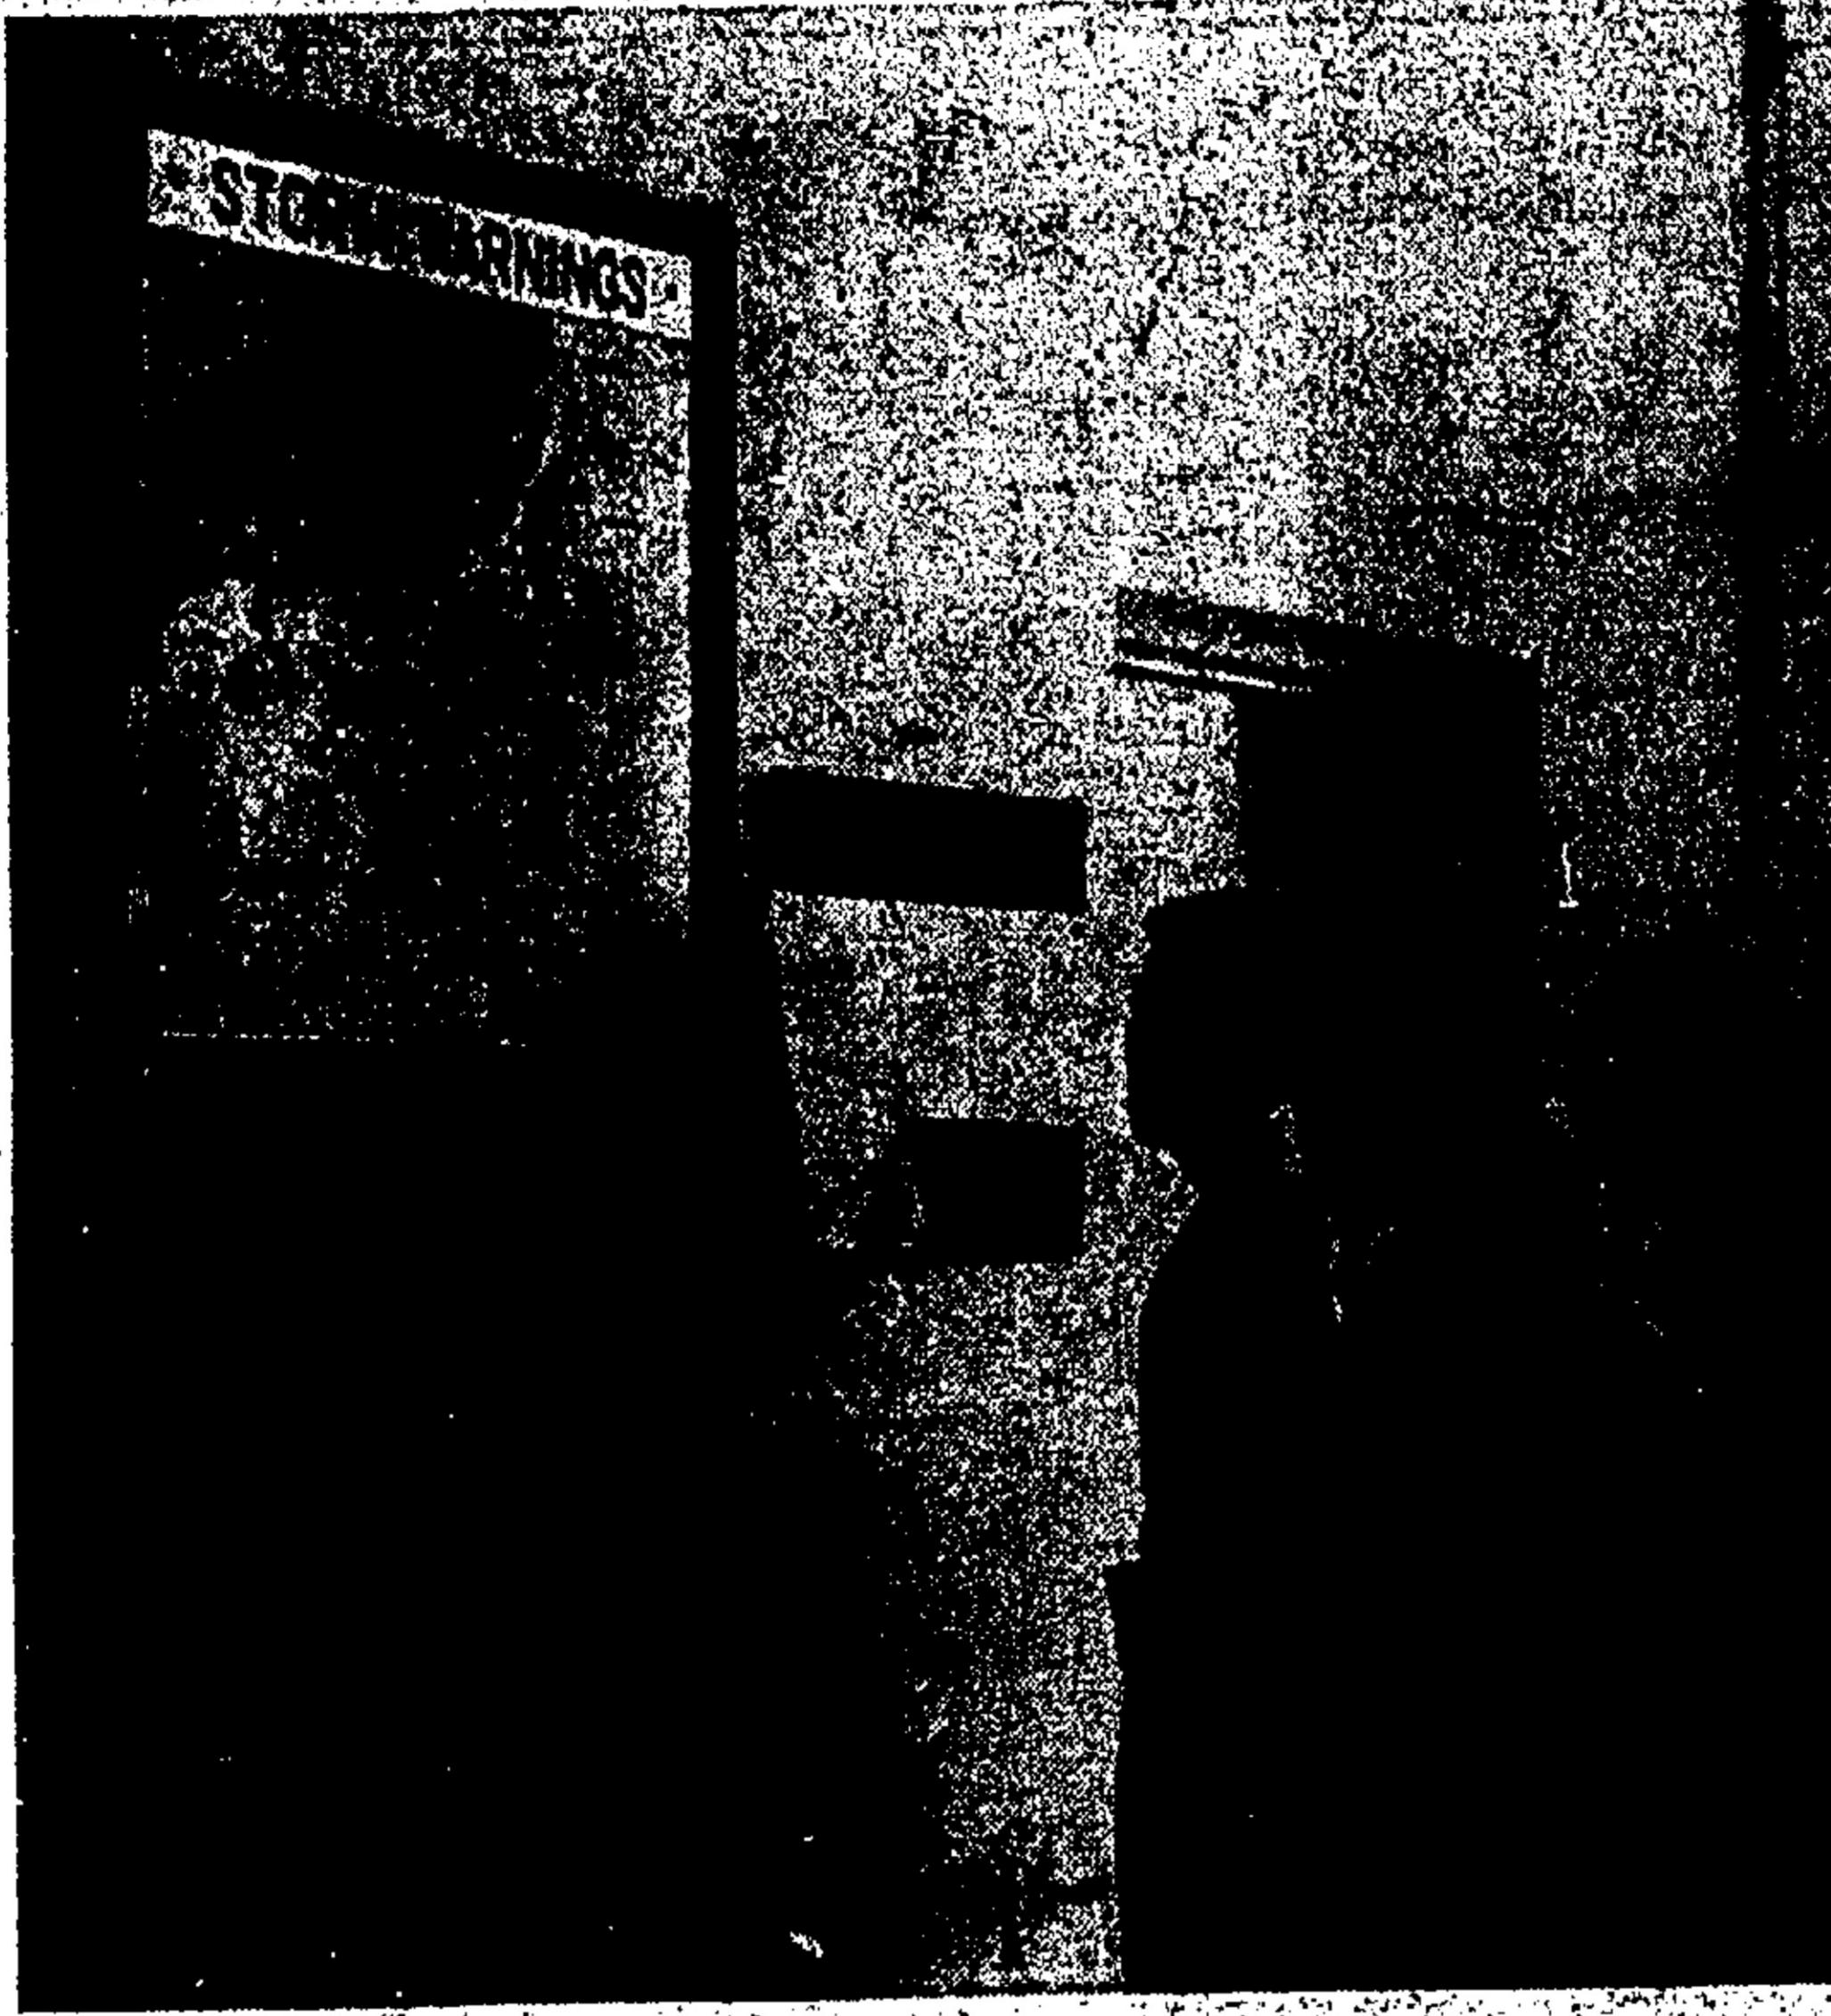

Most of the ships alongside wharves have moved over to typhoon buoys or typhoon anchorages in harbour.

Fourteen ships left their berths in harbour for anchorages west of Stonecutter Island to ride out the approaching storm.

All launches of the Marine Police have been put on standby duty.

Some of the Marine Police launches have been sent on patrol duty where the water is not so choppy.

—Reuter.

People are seen gathered at the Star Ferry pier at Kowloon to follow the latest reports on the approaching storm issued by the Royal Observatory. —China Mail Photo.

Boy tells of mother's chopper attack

An eight-year-old boy today told a court how his mother had attacked him with a chopper in the early hours of the morning, and then tried to kill herself.

said Mr Yang after the questioning.

Eight-year-old Chiu then testified that he woke up in the early hours of October 12, 1958 because "my mother chopped me with a chopper."

Chiu said that his throat was cut and bleeding and that his mother, Chan Sheung-ol, was sitting on the ground beside his bed, trying to cut her throat with a chopper.

He added that he ran to his sister-in-law's room and called her. This woman, Ng Sin-ye, then called the police.

"I accept his evidence, but he is too small to be sworn in,"

Hearing continues this afternoon.

—Continued from page 1

STOCKS SHOW BIG GAINS

Steels, chemicals, oils, in the vanguard

New York, June 6.
Stocks rallied to their highest level on average since early February today, restoring more than $3,500,000,000 to market evaluations.

Bourses concentrated on the blue chips from the opening, but support spread from these to other sections of the list. Steels were in the vanguard with the chemicals, oils and autos.

Industrial business machines squared well over 10 points to a new high. Beckman instruments added about 3 and Clevele more than 2.

STEEL PICK UP

Streets benefited from an expected pick up in steel operations this week with Youngstown up nearly 6 and National ahead more than 4. Youngstown got strong support on the report that operations in the Youngstown district were expected to rise to 40 per cent the week before. U.S. Steel added around 3 and Universal Cyclops, Granite City, around 2, or more.

Chrysler stood out in the cars with a gain of more than 3. The company reported that its sales in the final third or more were the best for any month since August, 1957.

Rails also improved. Aircars, tyres, metals and office equipment firms closing averages were:

Industries ... 630.92
20 Rails ... 141.93
15 Utilities ... 68.55
65 Stocks ... 268.23
40 Bonds ... 143.02
Commodity future price index ... 143.02

Closing Prices

Athens: P. & Paper	5.40%
Alden: Bus. Accy.	5.0%
Allied Chemicals	5.3%
Allied Mills Inc.	5.31%
Alis Chalmers	5.2%
Alis Brake Shoe	5.0%
Alis Electric Accy.	10.1%
American Cable & Radio Corp	9.5%
American Cyanamid Co	5.6%
Amer. & Forgn Power	5.0%
Am. Gas & Electric	5.0%
Am. Mach. & Fdry	1.8%
American Metal	2.7%
Am. Natural Gas	6.4%
American Smelting	2.5%
American Tel & Tel	5.5%
American Tel & Tel	5.5%
Amplex	2.5%
Arizona Copper	5.1%
Art. Steel	6.4%
Armour	3.5%
Asbestos Corp.	2.5%
Atlas Cone Mining	5.1%
Atlanta-Lincoln	1.5%
Auto. Ind.	5.5%
Bank of Montreal	5.21%
Bank of Nova Scotia	6.2%
Beech Life Savers	2.4%
Bell Tel	2.5%
Bernard Finance	2.5%
Bendix Aviation Corp	6.91%
Borgard Cos.	1.5%
Bethlehem Steel	4.7%
Boeing Airplane	5.8%
Brough Add. Machine	2.5%
British Amer. Oil	2.5%

UK markets closed

London markets were closed yesterday because of the bank holiday.

Declines in grain market

Chicago, June 6.
Corn futures held steady in an otherwise lower grain market today on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat futures declined at the start as favourable reports were received in the harvest. Export markets were inactive due to holidays in many countries.

Some cash houses bought July wheat. Commercial houses with southwest connections sold the December. Some traders bought wheat and sold corn.

Soybeans were also easy. An eastern buyer bought November and local buyers because of better meal prices. A large export business was said to be pending in vegetable oils. —UPI

RENTICO
Quick	Delivery
MARINE DIESELS
	Tel. 24401
G.P.O. Box 899

Sugar export to Hongkong

Jakarta, June 7.
Indonesia will shortly export 11,000 tons of sugar to Burma, and 1,000 tons to Hongkong, Antara News Agency said today.

The Burma shipments will go in August, the Hongkong shipment this month.

Antara said Burma, which had already taken 18,000 tons, was expected to be the biggest consumer of Indonesian sugar this year. —Reuter

HONGKONG STOCK EXCHANGE

by Our Own Correspondent

Business done at the Hongkong Stock Exchange this morning amounted to approximately $752,000. Noon quotations and the morning's transactions:

Shares	Buyers	Sellers	Sales
BANKS
HK Bank ..	1200	1210	20 @ 1210
			10 @ 1210
			30 @ 1210
INSURANCES
Union ..	91	100 @ 91 1/2
		100 @ 91 1/2
SHIPPING
Wheelock ..	6,90	1 2000 @ 7.03
		3000 @ 7.03
		500 @ 7
DOCKS, ETC.
K. Wharf ..	236	100 @ 112
Dock ..	103	110	100 @ 112
		100 @ 111
		200 @ 110
		100 @ 110
PROVIDENT ..	20,40	250 @ 20.80
		200 @ 20.80
TALKO DOCK	56	59
		100 @ 112
LAND, ETC.
HK Hotel ..	41	41 1/2	200 @ 58
HK Land ..	571	581	400 @ 58
		400 @ 58
RUBBER
Amalg.	745	800
Trust ..	8.90
UTILITIES
Trans.	312	313	500 @ 31 1/2
Star Ferry ..	180	190	25000 @ 1.95
		5000 @ 1.95
C. Light ..	22,30	22,12	100 @ 22.30
		200 @ 22.30
Electric ..	28	28.30	1000 @ 28.10
		1000 @ 28
Telephone ..	372	38	200 @ 28
		200 @ 28
HK Gas ..	13,80	13,70	170 @ 13.70
		170 @ 13.60
INDUSTRIALS
Cement ..	51	52	500 @ 51
Dairy ..	281
COTTONS
Nanyang ..	101	10.80
INVESTMENTS
Int.	8.30	8.75
Allied ..	0.40
H.K. & F.E.	14.90	15.40

NOW ASIA'S BUSIEST PORT

Singapore, June 6.
This Southeast Asia trading island has passed Kōbe, Japan, as Asia's busiest port, Deputy Prime Minister Dr. Toh Chiti Chye said.

Quoting statistics for 1958 just released by the Rotterdam Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Dr. Toh said that in tonnage of shipping, Singapore ranked fifth in the world—behind New York, Rotterdam, London and Antwerp.

Comparative figures for 1958 were not available. However, Singapore in 1958 handled an all-time record of 66.85 million net tons of shipping—double the figure for 1950.

BOOMING

Fears have been expressed in shipping and business circles here that efforts of young neighbour nations, especially Indonesia and Malaya, to develop their own direct shipping facilities will hurt Singapore's traditional position as the marketplace of Southeast Asia.

But these moves will take a number of years to be carried out, at least. In addition, the booming rubber market has been a key factor in improved trade through Singapore, of course. And I imagine they do

Half a million vacant jobs—but no one shouts about it

By ALEXANDER THOMPSON

This small town, now a suburb of Frankfort, is one of the big centres of the chemical industries in modern and streamlined Western Germany.

The Farwerke Hoechst A.G., once part of the old I. G. Farben Industrie, has a large industrial estate here.

As we sped through its entrance gates, my taxi driver pointed to the huge factories standing shoulder to shoulder along a flower-bordered roadway.

"This street is nearly four kilometres (two and a half miles) long," he said proudly. "Crossways, from one boundary to another the distance is about two kilometres."

I have driven out here to meet Dr Alexander Menne, one of the executive directors of Farwerke Hoechst.

He is a jovial and stocky 53-year-old who is obviously quite personally in German big business.

For 11 years, he was president of the Association of Chemical Industries. Now, he is deputy chairman of the Federation of German Industries, a body that corresponds to our own F.B.I.

WELL PLACED

So, one way and another, he is well placed to talk about the state of trade here and the shape of things to come.

"How is the chemical business?" I asked as we stopped in his spacious office and smoked cigarettes.

Menne had the facts at his fingertips. "Turnover of the German chemical firms as a whole," he said, "was 20 per cent up in the first quarter of this year compared with the first three months of 1959."

What about Farwerke? I enquired. Dr Menne smiled. "I think I can safely say we are doing a little better than that," he said.

This makes you wonder how our own Imperial Chemical Industries is doing this year. As the biggest in Europe it is hardly lagging behind.

Alexander Menne calls himself "a plain businessman" who has had an adventurous career.

During the war, he is said to have been arrested by the Gestapo, and sentenced to be shot.

I asked if the story were true. "Yes, it is," he told me. "But I prefer not to talk about it. That painful chapter is finished now."

So we switched to business topics again. Menne is clearly an optimist about the future of the world's chemical industry.

"With so many new products being formulated all the time, it should certainly continue to expand," he declared.

To illustrate his point, he recounted Farwerke Hoechst's performance in the last few years.

Plastics and synthetic fibres have been among its star turns just as they have been for ICI at home.

What about the rest of Germany? Menne believes further expansion depends on automation and mechanisation.

The reason is that booming Germany is running into an acute labour shortage. In theory, there are still more unemployed than jobs waiting to be filled. But in practice, it is the other way round.

Some estimates say there are as many as 500,000 vacancies, although industry does not shout about it.

UNEMPLOYMENT

In contrast, the unemployment total is only around 120,000. And a large proportion of the unemployed are either unfit, or too old for work.

This scarcity of labour, however big it may be, is naturally being reflected in rising wage rates as industry scrambles for manpower.

Last year, wages rose by between five per cent and six per cent. In the first four months of this year, they were showing a six and a half per cent advance on the same period of 1958.

Says Dr. Menne: "Increasing rates have so far made it possible for our industries to absorb these extra costs. As a result, prices have kept fairly stable."

"But in several industries they must now be getting near the point where further increases in wages must lead to higher prices."

These are his personal views, of course. And I imagine they do

Japan shipyards face prospect of serious slump

Tokyo, June 6.

THE Japanese shipbuilding industry, which has maintained the position of world's top shipbuilder since 1956, is now facing the possibility of a serious slump because of a heavy decline in orders for export.

A report published by the Japanese Ministry of Transport gives warning that a disastrous situation may ensue in a year or two unless steps are taken immediately to avert a recession.

In the early part of the five-year period, Japanese dockyards enjoyed an unprecedented boom, the report says. Their low building prices and short delivery terms attracted a rush of orders, particularly from overseas owners, and modernisation carried out in the previous five years was showing marked results in the technical field.

Orders received from both domestic and foreign owners amounted to 2,600,000 gross tons in 1955, 2,800,000 tons in 1956 and 1,800,000 tons in 1957. Because of a drastic change in the world freight market situation, however, the total orders dropped to 1,200,000 tons in 1958 and 890,000 tons in 1959.

Export orders placed with Japanese shipyards in the past five years amounted to 6,200,000 tons, worth more than 1,700 million United States dollars, the report adds. But the orders were concentrated in the early part of the period, those received in 1958 and 1959 being only 760,000 tons and 330,000 tons respectively.

ANOTHER YEAR

FOUGHT A BEAR WITH JACKKNIFE!

New York, June 6. Arthur Le Gault, a 70-year-old pulpwood cutter, fought an angry female black bear for 20 minutes yesterday before driving her off with his jackknife.

His wounds were treated today in hospital in Newberry, Michigan. He suffered severe claw cuts on the back and face.

Le Gault's encounter with the medium-sized bear occurred in a forest near this upper Michigan community.

Le Gault, still in shock and unable to give a coherent account of the attack, said the animal attacked without warning and his only defence was a jackknife.

He said the bear ripped off part of his clothing but he finally chased it away by stabbing at its eyes.

WALKED HOME

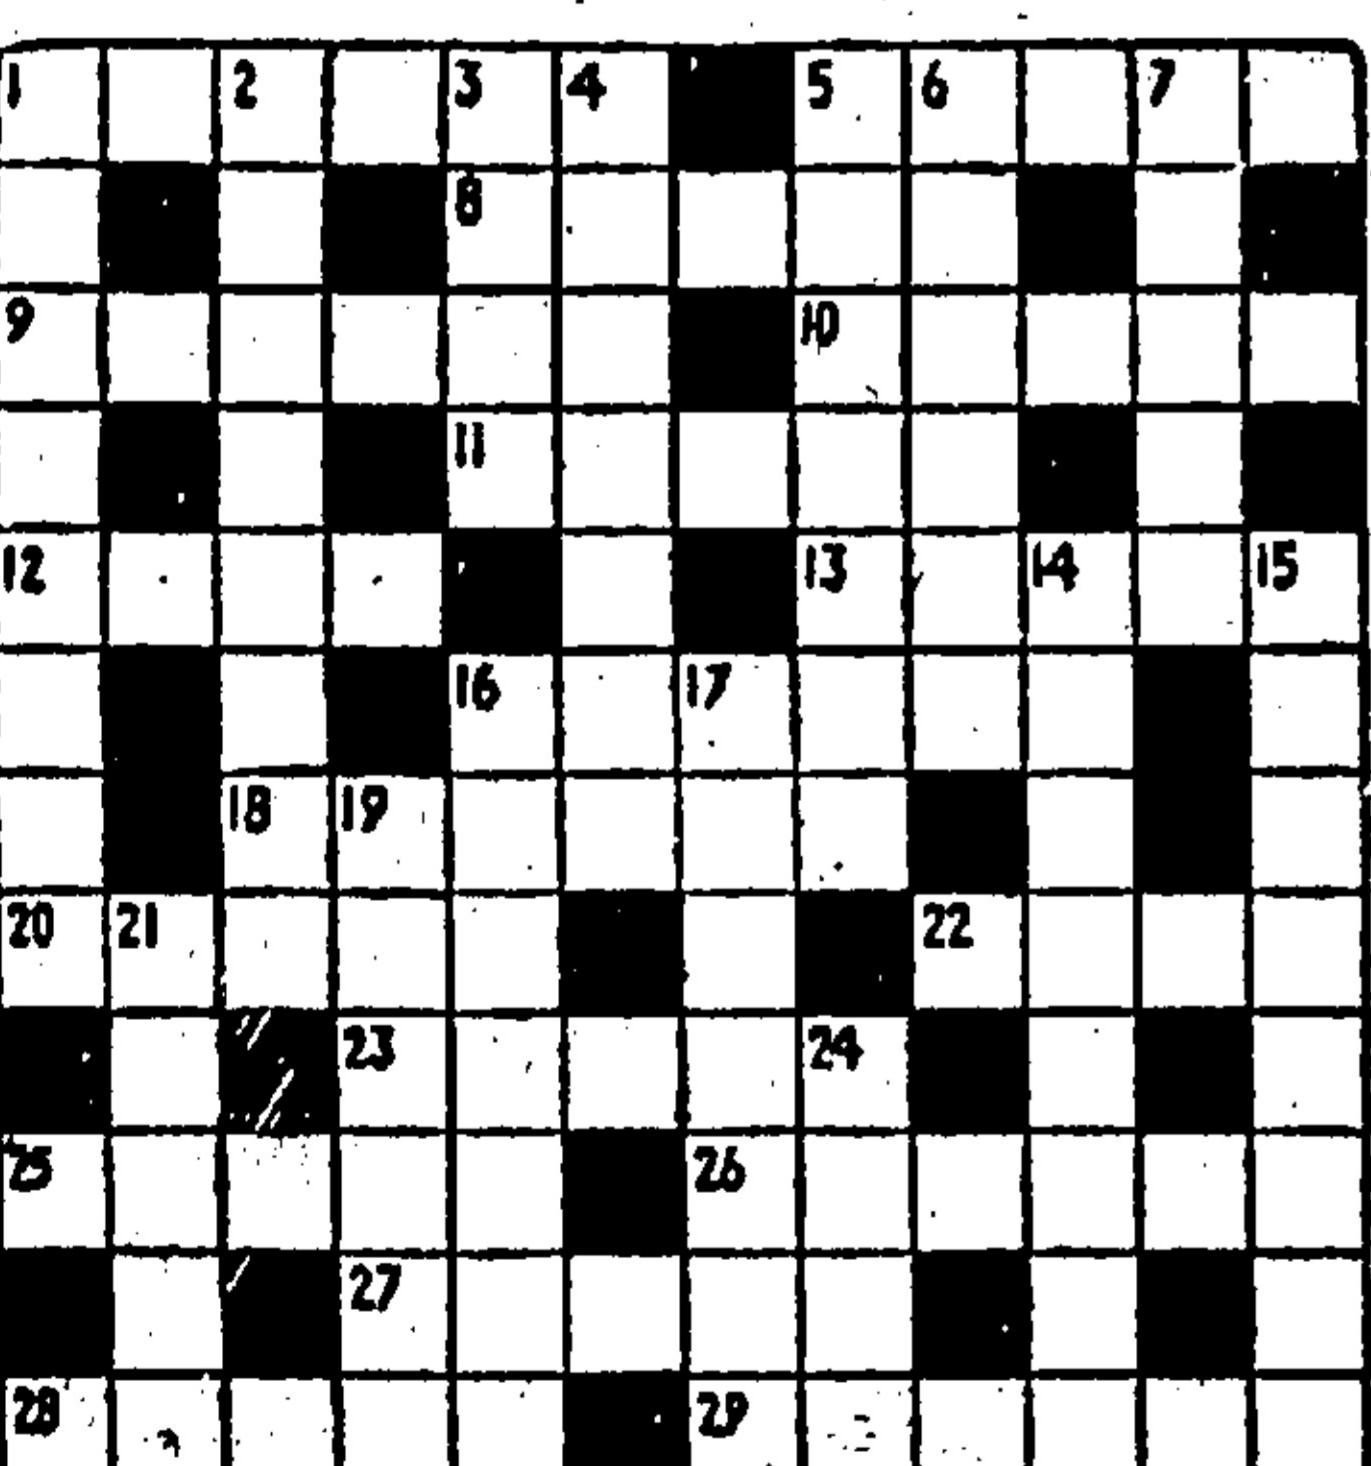

In the fight Le Gault lost the keys to his truck, and he had to walk a mile back to his home. His wife drove him to the hospital.

Two veteran hunters said the bear had two cubs, and it appeared that Le Gault without realising it had approached the cubs too closely and angered the mother bear. The bear ran off, avoiding the hunters.

Attacks by Upper Michigan bears on humans are not frequent. But a two-year-old girl was killed and partly eaten by a bear in July of 1948.

Le Gault had a skirmish with a bear several years ago. But he was armed then with a rifle and killed the animal.—AP.

A British Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS

- They carve. (6)
- Side by side may be the way to figure them out. (5)
- To square accounts. (5)
- Musical piece, perhaps. (6)
- Dance from a Portugal opera. (5)
- Loses, possibly, some fruit. (5)
- Tablet for external use. (4)
- HQ, cricket. (5)
- Arranges filly. (6)
- Shorthand writers. (6)
- Roland? (6)
- Hopped it? That's not right! (4)
- As little as possible. (5)
- Writer of fairy tales. (5)
- Decorative material. (6)
- A truly lute, long ago. (6)
- Intended to give me a New Testament. (6)
- Takes a nibble at the coast, maybe. (6)

DOWN

- Severity at sea? (8)
- Pigment for camouflage? (8)
- Star turns up. (4)
- Anchorite—it's in the fashion. (7)
- It gives a ringing tone. (7)
- Sane or otherwise, it accompanies sanity. (6)
- Show what Nature abhors. (7)
- Just about skilled, but went backwards. (8)
- The game for Sally in the alley, no doubt. (8)
- It may be made without success. (7)
- Letters supplying some tangible support. (7)
- Could he be said to be a gushing type? (6)
- Really frightening. (5)
- Rank in Scotie regiment. (4)

YESTERDAY'S CROSSWORD—Across: 3 Idol, 7 Satin, 8 Apes, 9 Pear (pair), 10 Succeed, 12 Dear, 16 March, 18 Best, 19 Attic, 21 Inure, 22 Blas, 23 Sorts, 26 Dore, 28 Balloons, 30 Load, 31 N-one, 32 Slack, 33 Stem. Down: 1 Vague, 2 Fischer, 4 Deeds, 5 Lard, 6 Vera, 9 Pert, 11 Eager, 13 Eats, 14 Rice, 16 H-Alts, 17 Mind, 18 Burr, 20 Tassels, 22 Brad, 24 Orate, 25 Snack, 27 Oboe, 28 Ale.

The illegal Chinese entry row in Canada

DIEFENBAKER PROMISES A PROBE

Gamble asks for a US$1,500 allowance

Damage to Chinese Community

Ottawa, June 6. The Prime Minister John Diefenbaker promised today to look into charges that the Government's handling of a probe into illegal Chinese entry into Canada had cast suspicion on the country's entire Chinese community.

The charge was made in the Commons by the former Liberal Immigration Minister Mr J. W. Pickersgill. Diefenbaker noted that both Immigration Minister Mrs Ellen Fairclough and Justice Minister E. Davie Fulton had made full reports on the investigation.

He added, however, that he would check into the matter and remedy any statements that damage the Chinese community as a whole.

RESPECTED

Diefenbaker agreed with Mr Pickersgill that Chinese-Canadians formed one of the "most respectable and respected" segments of the Canadian population.

Both Mr Fulton and Mrs Fairclough denied any knowledge of a reported government offer to protect any Chinese-Canadian providing information on the international smuggling ring. Mrs Fairclough said she thought it might be a "loose interpretation" of her offer to give sympathetic consideration to any immigrants'

U.S. rocket workers on strike

Washington, June 6. The U.S. Defence Department today announced an agreement to furnish Britain with the Skybolt air-launched ballistic missile when it is developed.

This arrangement was announced by British Minister of Defence, Mr Harold Watkinson and U.S. Secretary of Defence Mr Thomas Gates after a week of discussions.

This agreement came after the British Government dropped work on its own Blue Streak ballistic missile and indicated interest in the Skybolt, now under development of the U.S. Air Force.

Today's pentagon announcement said, the two defence ministers confirmed the arrangements made in general terms between the President and Prime Minister "for co-operation in the development of Skybolt with a view to supplies being bought for the Royal Air Force when production takes place."

A Pentagon spokesman said that the minute of understanding included a specific number of Skybolts that the British will require. This number was not disclosed.

The understanding also includes a provision for British crews, technicians and aircraft to come to the United States for early training and co-operation with the U.S. Air Force in working out techniques of using the Skybolt.—AP.

PRINCE BERNARD

The Hague, June 6. Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands, who was taken ill on May 28 in Switzerland with viral pneumonia, was out of bed today in the Academic Hospital of Utrecht though his temperature is not yet normal, his doctors said.—AP.

Pickets appeared at the headquarters plant here this morning, urging workers to attend a mass meeting. Union officials said the local work stoppage was not a strike but only a stoppage at least until after the meeting.

Spreading

Meanwhile, strikes authorised by union members—but not yet called—threaten production of such other defence items as the submarine-launched Polaris missile and the Midas, Samos and Discoverer satellites. Convair officials in San Diego said the strike quite definitely would affect firing of the big missiles.

The dispute is over wages and other benefits. Convair's last offer was an 11-cent an hour wage increase and a 3-cent "cost-of-living" raise which would be incorporated in the permanent wage. The union said, the offer was inadequate.

Present machinists' scale ranges from $1.70 to $2.40 an hour. The machinists seek a 14-cent hourly pay increase over a two-year period.—AP.

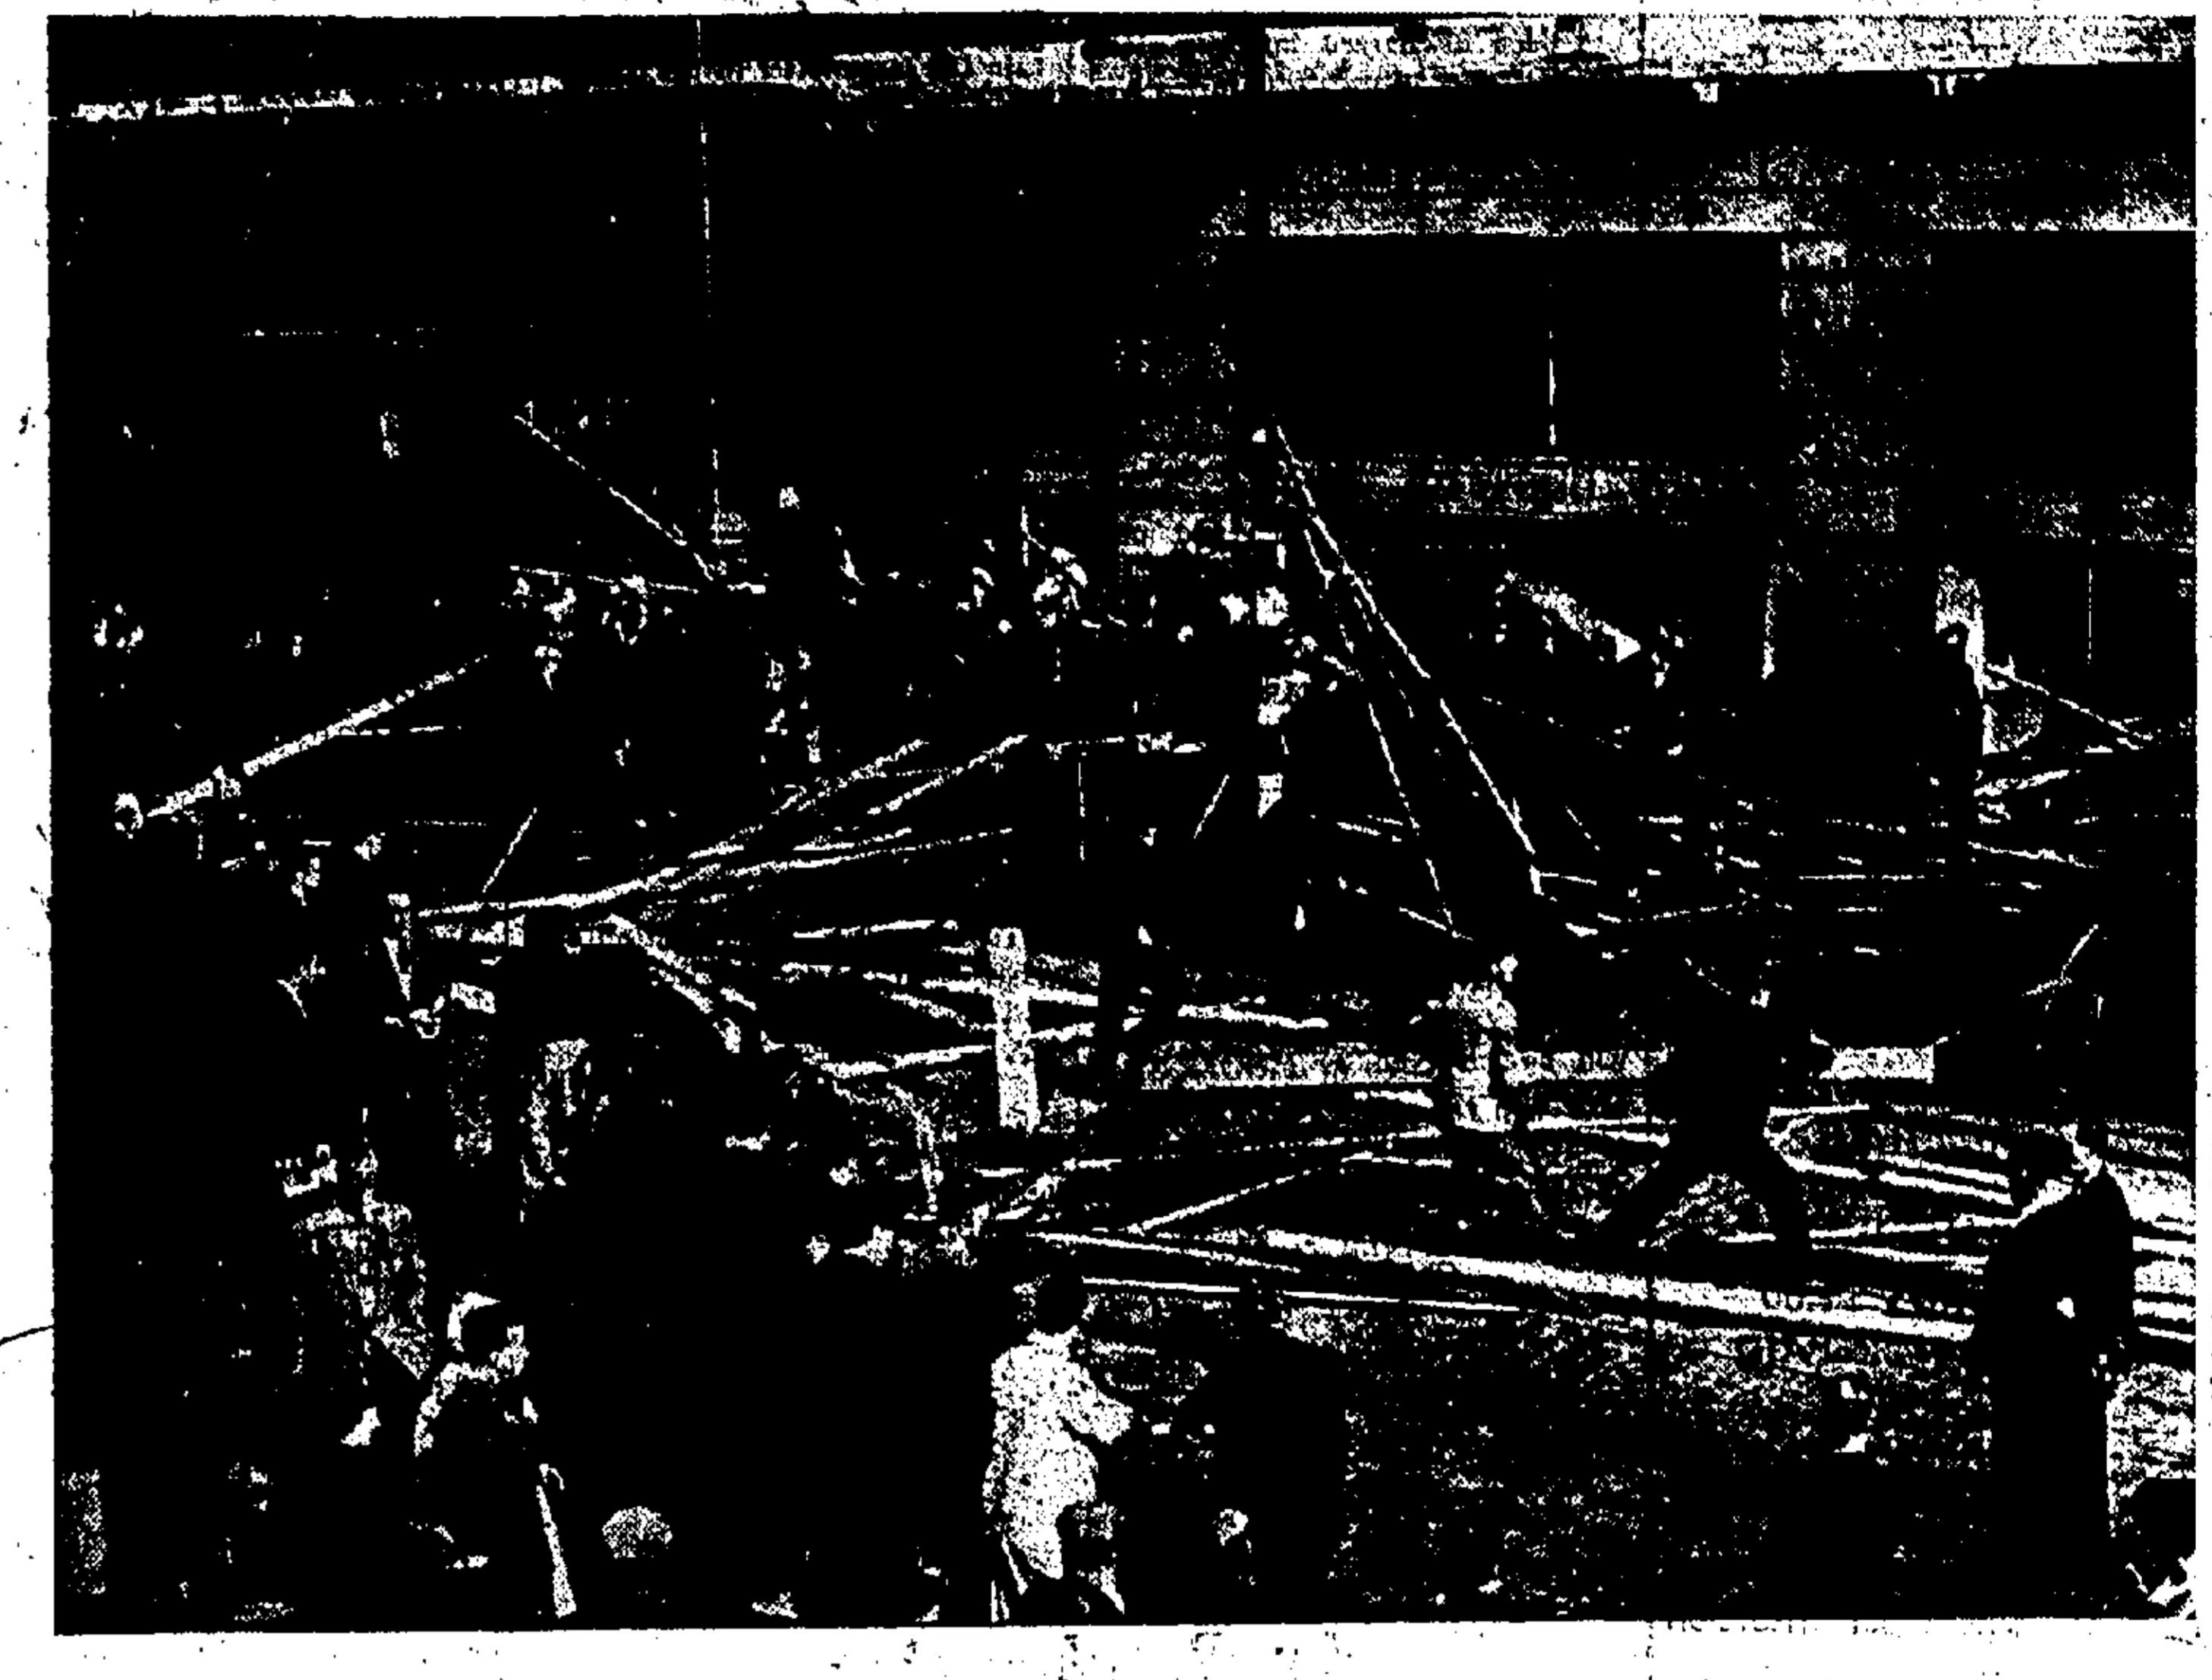

NEW QUAKES CAUSE PANIC IN CHILE

Santiago, June 6. Two strong earthquakes shook the southern Chilean provinces of Concepcion and Magallanes today causing panic in a number of towns but no damage.

The Ministry of Information said the quakes were felt throughout southern Chile with their epicentre in the sparsely populated Wellington Island.

The tremors were felt only in the two southern provinces.

Accident kills two

Two steel erectors were killed and two others injured recently when 30 tons of soft high scaffolding collapsed in Glasgow's Argyle Street. The scaffolding had been erected along the 100-yard front of the City's largest store (Lewis'); but luckily the collapse occurred at 6.55 p.m., when the shop was shut and the roadway outside deserted. Half-an-hour earlier the pavement had been crowded with window-shoppers on their way home from work—a collapse then would have killed many of them. Rescuers are seen clawing at the steel in the attempt to release the men underneath the tangled mass of 50lb poles.—Express Photo.

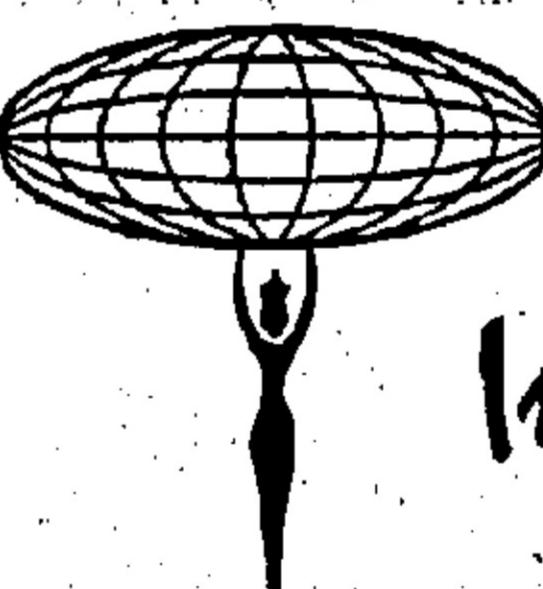

State Dept. issues a denial

Washington, June 6. The State Department today said it in no way influenced the father of Francis G. Powers, captured U-2 pilot, to cancel his proposed trip to Moscow.

Except to inform the elder Powers how to go about Lincoln White said the father, Oliver Powers of Pound, Virginia, acted entirely independently of us." Powers how to go about getting a U.S. passport and a Soviet visa, White said, "We gave him no advice at all."

Oliver Powers announced on Saturday he had called off his trip, at least for the time being, on "outside advice" apparently received in a midnight phone call.—UPI.

Invitation to Fame

You could represent Hong Kong at...

MISS INTERNATIONAL BEAUTY CONGRESS

Long Beach, California August 4-14, 1960

Entries open to unmarried girls of any nationality, ages 18 to 28.

With opportunities:

- to win HK$15,000 awards in Hong Kong and US$13,500 awards at Long Beach
- to help raise funds for World Refugee Year
- to publicize Hong Kong to the U.S.A.
- to be interviewed by Warner Bros. Studio for film contracts

Entrants will be judged on beauty of face and figure, charm, poise and personality in evening gowns, national costumes (for instance, cheongsam or the Chinese) and conservatively designed play clothes—NO SWIMSUITS!

Local contest: Preliminaries on July 6

Finals on July 16

at Miramar Hotel

Join Now—Entries will close on June 20, 1960.

Application forms and details may be obtained from the local co-sponsors:

GIRARD-PERREGAUX WATCH CO. of Switzerland
(Agents: Gilman & Co. Ltd.—Gloucester Arcade)

PAN-AMERICAN WORLD AIRWAYS

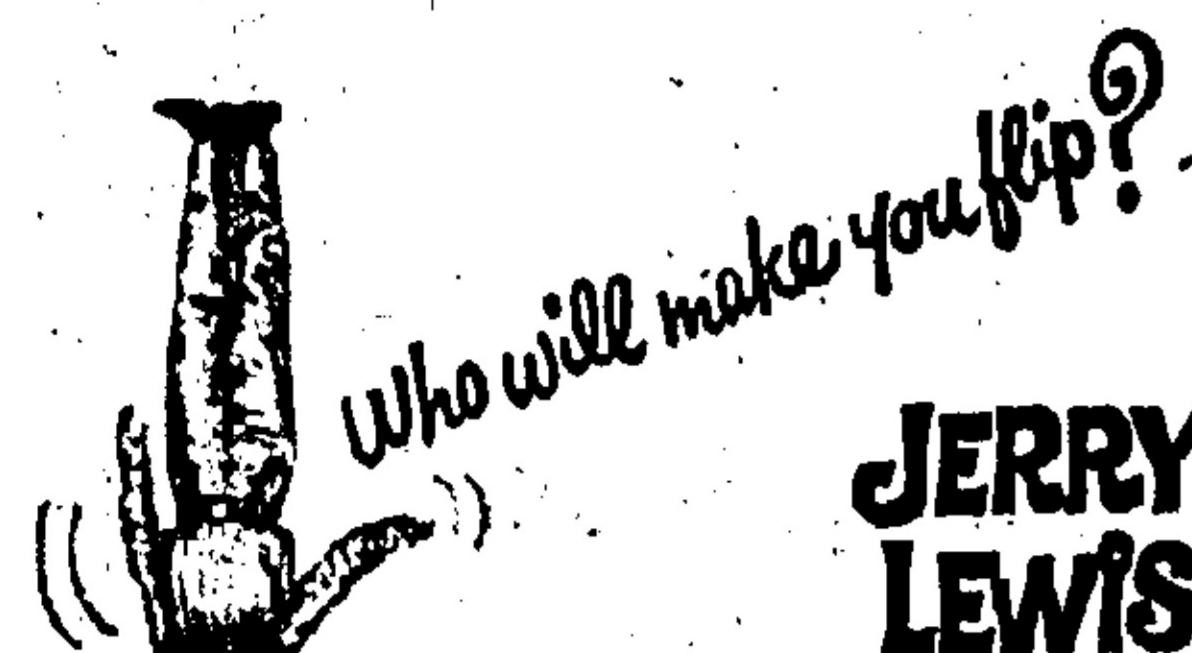

Alexandra House or Peninsula Hotel Arcade

OR BY WRITING TO POST OFFICE BOX 29, HONG KONG.

KING'S • PRINCESS

At 2.30, 5.30, 7.30 & 9.30 p.m.

SHOWING TO-DAY

JERRY LEWIS!

Way, Way Out
in

Visit to a Small Planet

HAL WALLIS PRODUCTION • A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

Also added "VistaVision visits Japan" in Technicolor

ROXY & BROADWAY

RETURN ENGAGEMENT TO-DAY

Owing to length of picture please note change of times:
At 2.30, 5.20, 7.30 & 9.40 p.m.
Voted by the British Film Academy as the BEST PICTURE!
THE MOST HONORED PICTURE OF THE YEAR!

You have a wonderful and rare opportunity to see the highly acclaimed motion picture which has so many records all over the world!

- 2 OSCAR AWARD WINNER:
(1) BEST ACTRESS—
SIMONE SIGNORET
(2) BEST SCREENPLAY—
NEIL PATERSON

A Savage Story of lust and ambition

SIMONE SIGNORET
LAURENCE HARVEY
HEATHER SEARS

ROOM AT THE TOP

DONALD WELCH RONALD HUSTON HERMIONE BADDELEY

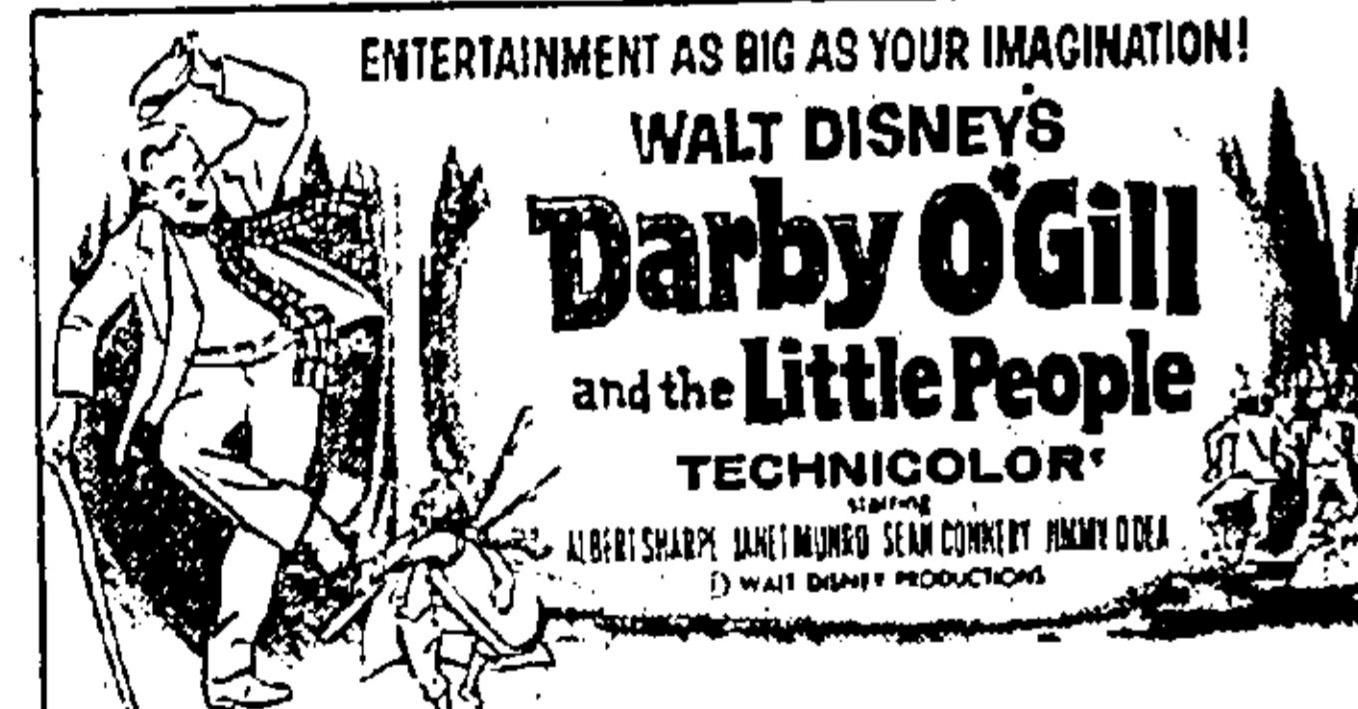

★ A 20th Century-Fox Release ★

ROYAL - STATE

Rathan Rd., Kln. Tel: 80-5700 King's Rd., N.W. Tel: 77-3848

NOW SHOWING AT 2.30, 5.30, 7.30 & 9.30 P.M.

GIVE YOUR KIDS A REAL TREAT!

ENTERTAINMENT AS BIG AS YOUR IMAGINATION!

WALT DISNEY'S

Darby O'Gill
and the Little People

TECHNICOLOR

STORY BY ALBERT SHAPERO MUSIC BY SEAN CONNOLY LYRICS BY D. WALT DISNEY PRODUCTIONS

ORIENTAL MAJESTIC

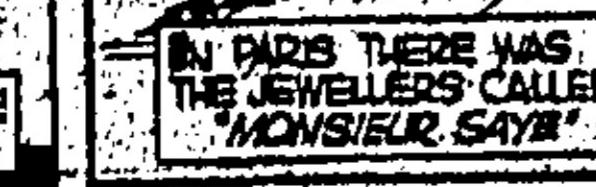

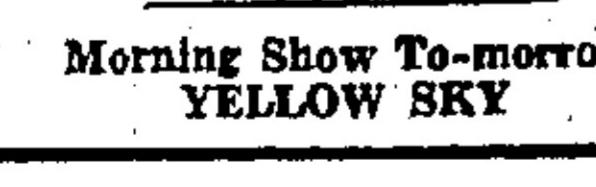

RIR CONDITIONED

SHOWING TO-DAY
At 2.30, 5.30, 7.30 & 9.30 p.m.
Please Note Change of times:
At 2.30, 5.10, 7.30 & 9.40 p.m.

THE FUNNIEST COMEDY IN YEARS IS THE MOST HILARIOUS BIG PICTURE OF THE YEAR!

The Funniest Picture of the year!
MATT PARKER
DORIS DAY & DAVID NIVEN
A EXCITE PRESENTATION
PLEASE DON'T EAT THE DAISIES

MURRAY STONE
RICHARD HATHAWAY AND PAUL BREWER
REINHOLD MELLER

James Bond
BY IAN FLEMING DRAWINGS BY JOHN McLELLAN

NEW YORK THERE WAS THE HOUSE OF DIAMONDS...

TOWN HAS OWN MUMMY

Objection taken to outsider's exhibition show

Rhyl, Wales, June 6. Church leaders, councillors and business people of this seaside resort were up in arms last night against an outside showman's proposal to exhibit a "six-pence a look" Egyptian mummy on the pleasure beach.

Vandals damage railways

London, June 6. If vandals continue at their present rate damage to British Railway property will reach £500,000 this year, it was announced.

The damage is generally inflicted on excursion late night and weekend trains, British Railways reported.

Favourite targets of vandals are electric light lamps. In the Nottingham division alone 2,000 have already been stolen or broken this year.

Other vulnerable items are windows, lavatory mirrors, seat cushions and wash basin planks. The British Transport Commission has asked passengers and the public to help them catch the offenders by reporting acts of vandalism as quickly as possible.—China Mail Special.

British Legion rake's progress

Margate, June 6. With a bank overdraft the British Legion is now pursuing "a form of rake's progress which cannot continue indefinitely." Lord Cromwell, the retiring treasurer, warned at the Legion's conference at Margate.

The Legion formed of ex-servicemen's organisations three years after the end of World War I has 4,400 branches all over Britain.

The conference was told yesterday that for every 20s collected for the national benevolent fund on Poppy Day (November 11) last year 21s and 21s 9d was spent.

Lord Cromwell visualised a continued overspending of about £100,000 a year if the present trend went on.

He said that the general reserve and the value of all investments stood at £1,200,000.—China Mail Special.

"SELLERS has done it again"—EVENING NEWS.
"SELLERS superb"—SUNDAY PICTORIAL.

Peter Sellers

Coming To ROXY & BROADWAY

THE GOLDEN PHOENIX

Proudly Presents Two Outstanding Floorshows!

BILLY BANKS
THE DALRAYS

Morning Show To-morrow YELLOW SKY

IN PARIS THERE WAS THE
JEWELRY CALLED MONSIEUR SAUVE

LONDON'S LONDON GARDEN THERE WAS THE OFFICE OF MR. GENE B. SAYE

AND IN A LUXURY HOTEL MISS CASE WAITED TO MEET A JEWEL THIEF

SEE YOUR TRAVEL AGENT OR CITY COUNSELOR FOR DETAILS

Firing employees bad for public relations

London, June 6. Fear of bad public relations has stopped companies from firing people, a business magazine said here. Instead, the company finds the unwanted employee a new job. Business, a journal for management, claims that as a result "a new type of company is emerging—the permanent floating useless executive." This type has arisen because of "the business credo that everyone is a success. The sales graph is always going up. The order book is always jammed. Therefore, there are no failures in business." But, there really are, the magazine says—and the company spends more money finding the unwanted employee a new job than in hiring his successor. One company worked so hard to place a useless manager—cutting out suitable advertisements writing letters and arranging interviews—that another company refused to hire the man whose last employers thought so highly of him. Therefore, "Business concludes, another permanent floating useless executive was still eating regularly."—China Mail Special.

LONG DRAG HOME AFTER BRITAIN'S BEST HOLIDAY

London, June 6. The cars of weary, homeward-bound travellers jammed the roads tonight to wind up Britain's sunniest and probably safest holiday weekend of the year.

First reports showed 22 people died in car crashes on Saturday and Sunday of the three-day Whitson vacation.

Councillor Harry Parry, Chairman of the town's Publicity Committee, threatened tonight to call a meeting of protest.

The temporary 50-mile-an-hour speed limit on main roads was judged a complete success. British highways normally have no speed limits outside towns.

'Roses' match

Whitson festivities included an air display at Royal Air Force bases to commemorate the Battle of Britain 20 years ago, sheepdog trials in London's Hyde Park, and a full round of sports events.

Up north in Leeds, Yorkshire's cricket team suffered one of their worst defeats in the long history of the "Roses" match, played every Whitson between Yorkshire and Lancashire for over 100 years.

In London, Gordon Pirie thrilled big crowds by winning the 3,000 metres race for Britain against crack Continental athletes.

Cars jammed with sunburned children and hastily-packed beach equipment crawled along the highways into the cities from popular sea resorts.

Humid, record-breaking heat was broken in most places today by cool breezes and overcast skies as Britons turned back to jobs and housework.—AP.

Three jobs pay for trip

New York, June 6. Mrs Victoria Staniforth, a 54-year-old English housewife of Hillsboro, Sheffield, arrived here today on board the liner United States on a trip she financed by working upwards of 14 hours a day at three jobs.

The three jobs also made it possible for her to pay for various voyages by other members of her family during the last 11 years, she told reporters.

Mrs Staniforth, who lives in Stenhouse Road, was accompanied by her 20-year-old daughter Sylvia, a switchboard operator.

Mrs Staniforth said she likes the United States and hopes to remain.

"If I can work back home, I can work here," she said.—AP.

MASS ARRESTS

Madras, June 6. Police sources said today 3,448 people were arrested throughout Madras state yesterday after disturbances during a campaign to burn in public copies of a map of India minus Madras state.

The total included those taken into preventive custody.

Fifty-eight of those arrested were released today.

A further 158 arrested in Madras city are being prosecuted.—Reuter.

Big London hotel planned

London, June 6. Plans for a 620-room hotel which would be one of London's biggest and most advanced have been submitted to the London County Council by a firm of British architects, it was announced.

The ultra-modern 13-storey hotel would include a night club, a children's hotel, underground car parks for 400 cars, a banquet hall seating 1,300 people and penthouses on the top floor.

If the council approves the application, the hotel would be built at an estimated cost of £2.3 million on a two-acre site on the Thames joined to the Royal Festival Hall riverside gardens and Waterloo Railway station by pedestrian walkways and bridges.

A spokesman for the architects said a firm of international repute was expected to back the venture if the application succeeds.—China Mail Special.

LEE

FINAL TO-DAY

AT 2.30, 5.30, 7.30 & 9.30 P.M.

GLENN • WILLIAM FORD • HOLDEN

THE MAN FROM COLORADO color by TECHNICOLOR

ENTIRELY NEW PRINT!

LEE ASTOR

• TO-MORROW •

JOHN DEREK DAWN ADDAMS
ELSA MARTINELLI

THE VOLGA BOATMEN

CINEMASCOPE
EASTMAN COLOUR

SHAW CIRCUIT

HOOVER • GALA

TEL 72371 TEL 52979

★ SHOWING TO-DAY ★

AT 2.30, 5.20, 7.30 & 9.40 P.M.

Let him who is without sin cast the first stone...

JOHN WERNER BROS. PRESENTS
CARROLL BAKER • ROGER MOORE • WALTER Slezak
KATINA Paxinou DIRECTED BY HENRY BLAINE SCREENPLAY BY FRANK BUTLER DIRECTED BY IRVING RAPPER

RITZ CINEMA

FINAL TO-DAY AT 2.30, 5.30, 7.30 & 9.30 P.M.

WIVES BEWARE!

DOES YOUR HUSBAND CHOOSE YOUR BABY BETTER THAN YOU MUST BE SOME BABY!

Upstairs downstair

MICHAEL CRAIG ANNE REED YVETTE DEBENHOLD JAMES ROBERTSON JUSTICE

TO-MORROW

SILVANA MANGANO VAN HEFLIN in "TEMPEST" in Technicolor

Capitol

SHOWING TO-DAY AT 2.30, 5.30, 7.30 & 9.30 P.M.

JUN NEGAMI Ayako WAKAO Hiroshi KAWAGUCHI in "T.R.A.P."

In DaleScope & Color
With Superimposed English & Chinese Sub-titles

To-morrow 12.30 p.m. "ME AND THE COLONEL"

CHIUCHOW OPERA — ON THE STAGE

first performances in Hong Kong by the

KWANTUNG CHIUCHOW OPERA TROUPE

Nothing but the truth...

This week — the Beau Brummell of the stage.
The man who glitters in spangled suits and woos us unashamedly with sentiment—

Liberace.

WHAT is your full name?

QUESTIONS BY GORDON JACKSON

Legally Liberace is my full name, but I was christened Wladzio Valentino Liberace.

What nationality were your parents?

My father was Italian, my mother was Polish.

Were they musical?

My father was a professional musician — he played the French horn — and my mother an amateur musician. She played the piano.

Where were you born?

Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

How old are you?

Forty-one.

What do you weigh?

One hundred and eighty pounds.

Are you slimming?

I have slimmed but I am not trying to lose weight any more. I am probably as thin as I will be. I used to be 204 pounds.

Why did you start wearing flashy suits?

It started subtly at first and then the public caught on to it and it became a part of the showmanship of my act. They seemed to enjoy it.

What do they cost you?

They range from...none under 1,500 dollars. The most expensive cost 10,000 dollars.

Do newspaper descriptions like ogling, winking, slobbering, wriggling affect you?

I think as long as they present someone else's observations they don't upset me. As long as they are not vulgar in describing me, or below the belt criticisms.

Do you hate newspaper critics?

No, I never hated them. There was only one that I was disturbed about sufficiently to take action against.

How long are you staying in Britain?

Until the end of August. Have you brought your special piano and candelabra with you? Yes.

THE TERROR OF FANLING

I RECEIVED so many letters concerning the article I wrote about the tiger at Fanling, that I am convinced that my efforts to restore the records of the Colony are of interest to many besides myself.

I could not hope to reply to everyone, but I would have replied in these columns earlier, had I not received an assignment to Japan.

However, with thanks to everyone, here goes:

The tiger's head still exists; it hangs in the Central Police Station. I hope I am not telling tales out of school when I report it needs a new set of teeth, since, so I am informed, a certain mess night.

I think Mr K. M. A. Barnett had some other beast in mind when he recalls seeing the Birmingham Tiger in the Museum of the Old City Hall. By the time the tiger reached Hongkong, it was beyond the repair of the taxidermist. Thanks also to Mr Dewer, who called the tiger a lion, and said that its head still graces the portals of Central Police Station.

My report was accurate enough, but in one detail, I could be said to have written in a manner not in keeping with the tragedy of the subject. That was concerning Sergeant Goucher. But the information I had at the time did not mention the tragic consequences of the tiger's attack as far as Sergeant Goucher was concerned.

The report I now give is based upon a report made at the time by Mr S. H. Peplow, sometime in the District Office of the New Territories South, with a few details received from people who recall the incident one way or another.

So remote was Fanling in the year 1915, that it was not until early Tuesday, March 9th 1915, that the news was brought to town that a European Sergeant of Police had been badly mauled by a tiger the day before.

Details

Later in the day details were gathered of two desperate encounters with the beast.

In the first instance, Sergeant Goucher was seriously injured, his arm being broken in two places, and his back and side were most dreadfully lacerated.

In the second tragic encounter, P. C. Ruttan Singh was killed outright, the tiger springing upon him and biting his shoulder, thrice him to the ground.

Constable Hollands, at considerable risk to his own person, ran up to the tiger and

By —

JOHN LUFF

This is what happened.

About two months previously, the spoor of a tiger had been seen in the neighbourhood between Fanling and Shaukung.

The country was thickly wooded, affording ample cover for such a large beast while the local livestock provided food for such a savage hunter.

The Chinese villagers kept coming in with reports concerning a tiger, but "tiger" was shouted so often, that none took the matter seriously.

Clamour

But so certain were the Chinese on this occasion that Sergeant Goucher decided to do something about it, so he and Constable Hollands set out quite unbelieving, but determined to satisfy the clamour of the villagers.

It would seem that the policemen considered the tiger to be a large wild cat or a savage dog at the worst.

Sergeant Goucher carried only a shotgun; Hollands a very light revolver.

The Chinese led the two policemen to a small thicket where the animal was said to have been last seen.

But there was nothing to indicate the presence of the tiger. The policemen were about to enter the thicket when one of the Chinese, threw a clod of earth into the bushes.

With a terrible roar, the tiger sprang out, and fixing its claws

into the Sergeant's shoulder,

threw him to the ground.

Constable Hollands, at considerable risk to his own person, ran up to the tiger and

THE terror of Fanling, which was killed after two policemen lost their lives, seen with a background of Police, reporters and onlookers. In the picture, old residents of the Colony will recognise Messrs Tim Murphy (Police), W. G. Fitzgibbon (PWD), J. Teanan (H.K. Telegraph), T. C. Wilken (S.C.M. Post), and F. Khatton (China Mail).

emptied his revolver at close range into the body of the animal.

But the revolver was so less effective against the huge beast.

Sergeant Goucher carried only a shotgun; Hollands a very light revolver.

The Chinese led the two policemen to a small thicket where the animal was said to have been last seen.

But there was nothing to indicate the presence of the tiger. The policemen were about to enter the thicket when one of the Chinese, threw a clod of earth into the bushes.

With a terrible roar, the tiger sprang out, and fixing its claws

into the Sergeant's shoulder,

threw him to the ground.

Constable Hollands, at considerable risk to his own person, ran up to the tiger and

emptied his revolver at close range into the body of the animal.

But the revolver was so less effective against the huge beast.

Sergeant Goucher carried only a shotgun; Hollands a very light revolver.

The Chinese led the two policemen to a small thicket where the animal was said to have been last seen.

But there was nothing to indicate the presence of the tiger. The policemen were about to enter the thicket when one of the Chinese, threw a clod of earth into the bushes.

With a terrible roar, the tiger sprang out, and fixing its claws

into the Sergeant's shoulder,

threw him to the ground.

Constable Hollands, at considerable risk to his own person, ran up to the tiger and

emptied his revolver at close range into the body of the animal.

But the revolver was so less effective against the huge beast.

Sergeant Goucher carried only a shotgun; Hollands a very light revolver.

The Chinese led the two policemen to a small thicket where the animal was said to have been last seen.

But there was nothing to indicate the presence of the tiger. The policemen were about to enter the thicket when one of the Chinese, threw a clod of earth into the bushes.

With a terrible roar, the tiger sprang out, and fixing its claws

into the Sergeant's shoulder,

threw him to the ground.

Constable Hollands, at considerable risk to his own person, ran up to the tiger and

emptied his revolver at close range into the body of the animal.

But the revolver was so less effective against the huge beast.

Sergeant Goucher carried only a shotgun; Hollands a very light revolver.

The Chinese led the two policemen to a small thicket where the animal was said to have been last seen.

But there was nothing to indicate the presence of the tiger. The policemen were about to enter the thicket when one of the Chinese, threw a clod of earth into the bushes.

With a terrible roar, the tiger sprang out, and fixing its claws

into the Sergeant's shoulder,

threw him to the ground.

Constable Hollands, at considerable risk to his own person, ran up to the tiger and

emptied his revolver at close range into the body of the animal.

But the revolver was so less effective against the huge beast.

Sergeant Goucher carried only a shotgun; Hollands a very light revolver.

The Chinese led the two policemen to a small thicket where the animal was said to have been last seen.

But there was nothing to indicate the presence of the tiger. The policemen were about to enter the thicket when one of the Chinese, threw a clod of earth into the bushes.

With a terrible roar, the tiger sprang out, and fixing its claws

into the Sergeant's shoulder,

threw him to the ground.

Constable Hollands, at considerable risk to his own person, ran up to the tiger and

emptied his revolver at close range into the body of the animal.

But the revolver was so less effective against the huge beast.

Sergeant Goucher carried only a shotgun; Hollands a very light revolver.

The Chinese led the two policemen to a small thicket where the animal was said to have been last seen.

But there was nothing to indicate the presence of the tiger. The policemen were about to enter the thicket when one of the Chinese, threw a clod of earth into the bushes.

With a terrible roar, the tiger sprang out, and fixing its claws

into the Sergeant's shoulder,

threw him to the ground.

Constable Hollands, at considerable risk to his own person, ran up to the tiger and

emptied his revolver at close range into the body of the animal.

But the revolver was so less effective against the huge beast.

Sergeant Goucher carried only a shotgun; Hollands a very light revolver.

The Chinese led the two policemen to a small thicket where the animal was said to have been last seen.

But there was nothing to indicate the presence of the tiger. The policemen were about to enter the thicket when one of the Chinese, threw a clod of earth into the bushes.

With a terrible roar, the tiger sprang out, and fixing its claws

into the Sergeant's shoulder,

threw him to the ground.

Constable Hollands, at considerable risk to his own person, ran up to the tiger and

emptied his revolver at close range into the body of the animal.

But the revolver was so less effective against the huge beast.

Sergeant Goucher carried only a shotgun; Hollands a very light revolver.

The Chinese led the two policemen to a small thicket where the animal was said to have been last seen.

But there was nothing to indicate the presence of the tiger. The policemen were about to enter the thicket when one of the Chinese, threw a clod of earth into the bushes.

THE CHINA MAIL, TUESDAY, JUNE 7, 1960.

WOMANSENSE

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

THE time to plan your play is early in the hand; not after you have made a mistake. South won the second heart trick; cashed the ace of spades, dropping the six spot from dummy. Then he led a spade to dummy's jack. West showed out and East was in the lead with the queen. He played the six of diamonds and South won in dummy.

The nine of trumps was led and when East played low, South was still in dummy. He wanted to get back to his hand to pick up the last trump and went into a long huddle. Finally, he led dummy's king of clubs, but West held off with

NORTH (D)	21
♦J98
♦V42
♦AKQ75
♦KJ2
WEST
♦A2	♦Q1073
♦J10972	♦A865
♦J98	♦62
♦A975	♦1083
SOUTH
♦AK854
♦KQ
♦1043
♦Q84
Both vulnerable
North	East	South	West
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♦	Pass
2 ♦	Pass	4 ♦	Pass
Pass	Pass
Opening lead—♦J

the ace. The jock of clubs came next and again West held off. He did take the third club and led back the jack of diamonds.

South was back in dummy and had to lead a third diamond whereupon East ruffed and set the contract.

The hand would have been easy if South had done his thinking early. In that case he would have unblocked by dropping dummy's nine of spades under his ace. Then when he led the third spade from dummy he would have been able to win the trick in his own hand and pick up East's last trump.

CARD Sense

—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♦ Double Pass 3 ♦
Pass 3 N.T. Pass ?
You, South, hold:
♦A13 ♦KJ92 ♦A1086 ♦KJ9

What do you do?
A—Pass. With your balanced hand you are delighted to let your partner play no-trump.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Again your partner has doubled one spade. This time you hold:
♦A2 ♦KJ92 ♦A1086 ♦KJ75
What do you do?

Answer Tomorrow

YOUR CHINESE MAIL HOROSCOPE

London

 The freshness of Navy'n White

PICTURE BY JOHN ADRIAN

SO GAY—AND SO PRACTICAL

What is the special appeal of navy blue with "touches of white"? Why should such dissimilar types as Lady Diana Cooper, Vivien Leigh and Nancy Spain pick the same colours for the same outfit?

It could be that it is practical, serviceable and immensely wearable. It could also be that it is young, gay, and almost school-girlish in its simplicity.

On the right the Balmain version that caught the customers' eye. On the left, one for you in navy mohair and white pique.

London Express Service

LADY LUCK
 YOUR CHINA MAIL HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, JUNE 7

AQUARIUS (January 21-February 19): In your anxiety for early promotion you must not begrudge the extra amount of work you have to do.

PISCES (February 20-March 20): Even though it may be rather inconvenient, you cannot refuse a lonely person's request to spend a few hours in your company tonight.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Since you are far from satisfied with the way some of your subordinates go about their work, you should not hesitate to make some drastic changes.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Try and control your temper today, no matter how much provocation an associate may give you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21): In spite of your misgivings, your day will pass most pleasantly and everything will go according to plan.

CANCER (June 22-July 21): The tension of recent weeks will soon ease, and you will get through your working day with much less strain.

LEO (July 22-August 21): If this is your birthday, look out for SUN TAN. It ought to bring you luck.

more often. Your present hobby could gradually become your main source of income.

VIRGO (August 22-September 22): If a contract is due to be renewed, make sure to study it carefully, with changing conditions well in view.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): A long awaited letter may disappoint you, but your early reply might make the sender change his mind.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): A child's charm may prompt you to buy him a gift of which his parents may not approve. Consult them first.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): A person in authority may irk you with his overbearing ways, but you will have to put up with it if you want to keep your job.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 20): Accept an invitation issued at the last minute. You are likely to meet a very interesting person.

YOUR LUCKY COLOUR: Grey, black, peat brown and bottle green.

China Mail special

 London preview of your coming autumn fashion

—Rosanna Groake

CHRISTIAN DIOR

London, the wholesale house which exports models inspired by the famous Paris designer to 26 countries, suggests that the fashionable woman will be tied up in bows next autumn.

In a collection of 108 models shown here, bows were used restrainingly for day and in profusion for after-five and evening.

A simple black moire cocktail dress had three matching bows from shoulder to elbow on each three-quarter-length sleeve.

Bows

Bows were used as the starting point for puffed back fullness in short and long evening dresses, which invariably fell straight in front after gently moulding the figure.

Shoulder straps in bows, invariably ended in bows. A purple silk cocktail dress had four bows arranged in a square on the front of the bust skirt.

In daytime suits and coats, an off-centre bow marked the front fastening or collarless necklines.

The news in suits was longer jackets, very slightly fitted in front and straight at the back. This longer-bodies look was echoed in day and evening dresses, and in swinging coats with loose hip-belts.

Metallic

Suits, in wool or tweed for day and fabulously rich metallic brocades for evening, were shown with short-sleeved or sleeveless overblouses in the same fabric, the natural waistline loosely marked with a wide tie belt. These sash belts were in suede or leather for day and velvet for evening.

Theatre coats in dazzling brocade or gold and silver lame were shown over matching cocktail dresses which followed a Turn into a shallow oven-dish, sprinkle with grated Parmesan, and brown in the oven or under the grill.

Helen Burke

BEAU CATCHER

Bait the trap with this sleek, curve-clinging cotton knit Jacquard.
Contrasting top band and straps accentuate its beautiful simplicity.

 Available at all Leading Stores

Catalina

 A TOUCH OF THE TRILBY...

A KENWOOD CHEF TO

GO WITH THE NEW BABY

LET YOUR SAVINGS ON BABY FOODS PAY FOR IT!

 SAVINGS ON 100 TINS EACH CONCENTRATED
MEAT ESSENCES AND STRAINED VEGETABLES PLUS 50-TINS
FRUIT JUICES CAN BUY
A KENWOOD CHEF COMPLETE WITH LIQUIDIZER AND MINCER
ATTACHMENTS

 LET JUNIOR ENJOY HOME-MADE, FRESHLY PRODUCED BABY FOODS

Sole Agents: G. E. C.

Retail Sales: Showrooms Alexandra House Arcade (Tel. 86151)

London Express Service

STORIES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

In Never-Never Land

—General Tin Goes To Hunt Never-Never Animals—

By MAX TRELL

GENERAL! Where are you going?" asked Hanid, the Shadow Girl with the Turned-About Name.

General Tin, the Tin Soldier, turned around.

For a moment—but only for a moment—he frowned. Then he smiled.

It seemed to Hanid that he had been trying to squeeze himself through a tiny door at the bottom of the wall behind the curtain. She had never noticed that tiny door-in-the-wall before.

Where and why

"I suppose, Miss Hanid," said General Tin in his most polite voice, "that you'd like to know why, and where, I'm going through this door?"

Hanid nodded.

"On the other side of this door," said the General, "is You might get frightened of the Never-Never Animals. You might scream and scare them away."

Won't scream

Hanid promised that she wouldn't scream and General Tin then agreed that she could come along with him while he went hunting for Never-Never Animals in the forest of Never-Never Land.

Hanid helped to push General Tin, who was a bit big, through the tiny door. Then she followed.

And when she got on the other side of the door, there she was, in the middle of the strangest forest she had ever seen! I've decided to hunt this afternoon. And now, if you'll pardon me—"

The trees grew together in thick clumps but they kept moving around from place to place, just picking up their roots and moving.

"Come along. Don't just stand there, please," the General said to Hanid. "We'll never get anywhere if you keep on standing there!"

"Oh, I'm sorry! Those trees are all so funny!" Hanid started to say.

But General Tin was already darting in among the moving trees—they all hurriedly moved out of his way when they saw him coming—and Hanid ran after him.

After running through the Never-Never Land forest for quite a while, and after jumping over a Never-Never Land brook which kept running along with them and kept getting tangled up in their feet, they finally reached an even thicker and darker part of the forest.

There was a Never-Never Robin that never-never woke up early in the morning, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Lion that never-never roared.

There was an Elephant that never-never ate peanuts.

Hanid followed the General into the Never-Never Land Forest.

There was a Never-Never Dog who walked with a Never-Never Cat.

There was a Never-Never Kangaroo who never-never jumped.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Robin that never-never woke up early in the morning, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Robin that never-never woke up early in the morning, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Robin that never-never woke up early in the morning, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Robin that never-never woke up early in the morning, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Robin that never-never woke up early in the morning, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Robin that never-never woke up early in the morning, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Robin that never-never woke up early in the morning, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Robin that never-never woke up early in the morning, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Robin that never-never woke up early in the morning, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Robin that never-never woke up early in the morning, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Robin that never-never woke up early in the morning, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

There was a Never-Never Hippopotamus that never-never went near the water, and a Never-Never Giraffe that hardly-ever walked with his head in the clouds.

Ten-wicket defeat for Yorkshire

TYKES FAIL TO BREAK JINX IN THE BATTLE OF THE ROSES AGAINST LANCS

Yorkshire, the County Cricket champions, did not manage to break their jinx against Lancashire on the second day at Headingley. The "Battle of the Roses" ended with Yorkshire tumbling to a ten-wicket defeat, giving Lancashire their fourth win in Yorkshire since the war. Lancashire also completed a hat-trick of wins at the Headingley ground, the previous successes being in 1956 and 1958.

Scores

At Coventry: Leicestershire 286 and 42 for no wicket. Warwickshire 315 for six declared (N. Horner 100, A. Townsend 41, R. Hitchcock 69).

At Bath: Gloucestershire 309 and two for no wicket. Somerset 242, (P. Wright 71, B. Langford 60, J. Mortimore five for 64).

At Romford: Worcestershire 389 for four declared. Essex 180 for eight (G. Barker 55, T. Bailey 50). Rain stopped play.

At Lords: Middlesex 268 and 63 for no wicket. Sussex 225, (E. Dexter 105).

At Cambridge: Combined Services 276 for eight declared and 26 for one. Cambridge University 285 for eight declared, (A. Lewis 47, N. Reddy 103).

At Southampson: Hampshire 328 for six declared. Kent 143, (J. Procter 50), and 110 for three (P. Richardson 43).

At Trent Bridge: Nottinghamshire 362, Surrey 295 (J. Edrich 129).

At Derby: Derbyshire 191 and 78 for two. Northamptonshire 288 for seven declared, (M. Norman 62, B. Reynolds 74).—Reuter

Results

Results in today's cricket matches were:

At Oxford: Oxford University beat Free Foresters by an innings and 104 runs. Oxford University 434 for four declared. Free Foresters 145 (A. Smith five for 32) and 185 (J. Purves 69, M. Cheshfield 42).

At Leeds: Lancashire beat Yorkshire by ten wickets. Yorkshire 96 and 117. Lancashire 210 (R. Illingworth five for 58, D. Wilson five for 49), and five for no wicket. Lancashire 12 points.—Reuter

Pirie completes notable double at British Games

London, June 6.

Gordon Pirie, one of Britain's chief hopes of obtaining a gold medal in the track events at the Rome Olympics, completed a notable double when the British Games were continued at the White City here today in warm overcast weather before a crowd of 30,000. Pirie won the 3,000 metres international event in 7 minutes 57.2 secs.

Rumanian girl betters own world record

Bucharest, June 6. Balaf, of Rumania, broke her own women's world high-jump record for the eighth time by clearing 1.85 metres (6 feet 0 3/4 inches) here today.

The previous best performance by the 23-year-old Miss Balaf was 1.84 metres (6ft 0 1/4 ins).

Today's jump equals her own height exactly.—Reuter.

Doubles title for Fraser, Emerson

Barcelona June 6. Australia's Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson today won the men's doubles crown of the annual "Conde De Godo" tennis tournament here, beating the Spanish pair of Jose Luis Arilla and Andres Gimeno 6-4, 6-0, 6-4. —UPI.

Mike Holt outpointed

Johannesburg, June 6. Carl Bobo Olson, a former world middleweight boxing champion, outpointed Mike Holt, South African cruiserweight champion, on points over ten rounds here tonight.—Reuter.

Easy winner

In fourth place was the Czechoslovak Jaroslav Jurek in 7 mins 58.8 secs.

Welshman John Merriman, the Empire and Commonwealth Games silver medallist, was a very easy winner of the six miles inter-county championship event today.

He clocked 23 mins 21.4 secs, running away from his field on the last lap. The first four beat the Olympic standard qualifying time of 28 minutes 45.8 seconds.

Tom Farrell, who had surprised everybody by winning the international 800 metres on Saturday, returned to the event for which he obtained Olympic honours, the 400 metres hurdles.

He qualified in 51.8 seconds—four tenths of a second inside the Olympic qualifying time. He now has to decide which event to contest at home.

There was an upset in the 140 yards inter-county event.

John Wrighton, the European 400 metres champion, was winning it comfortably in 51.8 seconds—four tenths of a second inside the Olympic qualifying time. He now has to decide which event to contest at home.

GORDON PIRIE

There was an upset in the 140 yards inter-county event.

John Wrighton, the European 400 metres champion, was caught on the post by 18-year-old newcomer Barry Jackson, who returned to the event for which he obtained Olympic honours, the 400 metres hurdles.—Reuter.

HKFA meeting postponed

As a mark of respect to one of their Council members, Mr Lee Shiu-lun, who died yesterday after a fall in the China Emporium Ballroom, the Hongkong Football Association have postponed the Interport Subcommittee meeting which was originally fixed for this evening.

South Africans beat Glamorgan by innings and 133 runs

Cardiff, June 6. The South African touring team defeated Glamorgan on the second day here today by an innings and 133 runs.

They declared their first innings closed just after lunch at 358 for three and left the Welsh side to score 271 runs to avoid an innings defeat.

Glamorgan were all out for 138 ten minutes before the close.

At the start of the second innings, Glamorgan openers Bill Parkhouse and Bernard Hedges put on 45 before Hedges was leg before to Jon Pellow-Smith for 21 just before tea.

Springbok skipper Jackie McGlew had earlier reached 150 after five hours 40 minutes at the wicket, hitting 15 fours.

In the morning Trevor Goddard finally fell to a catch by Peter Walker off John Evans with his score at 146, adding 35 to his overnight score.

Griffin no-balled

Evans took all three South African wickets for 17 runs, and finished with three for 63.

His other victims were Tony Pithey and Roy McLean. Both went cheaply.

Springbok paceman Geoff Griffin bowled well without any luck. In his eighth over, when he had conceded 16 runs, he was

Scoreboard

FIRST INNINGS

Glamorgan: 87 South Africans (Overnight 204 for no wicket)

J. McGlew, not out 151

T. L. Goddard, c Walker, b J. B. Evans 148

A. J. Pithey, b J. B. Evans 3

R. A. McLean, c Hedges, b J. B. Evans 39

J. H. B. Waite, not out 38

Extras 15

Total (for 3 wickets decl.) 358

Wicketfalls: 1-256, 2-281, 3-297.

Bowling Analysis

O M R W

Clarke 14 1 54 0

J. B. Evans 22 4 63 3

Ward 36 4 116 0

Walker 28 9 75 0

Shepherd 25 10 36 0

SECOND INNINGS

Glamorgan

W.G.A. Parkhouse, b Tayfield

B. Hedges, bw Fellowes-Smith

S. Smith, b Walker, b J. B. Evans

R. Jones, b Tayfield 21

A. Rees, c Carleton, b Tayfield 28

P. Walker, c Fellowes-Smith, b McKinnon

W. Wooler, b Tayfield

D. Ward, c McLean, b McKinnon

J. B. Evans, c McLean, b McKinnon

D. L. Evans, c McLean, b McKinnon

F. Clarke, st Waite, b Tayfield 1

D. Shepherd, not out 1

Extras 6

Total 138

Wicketfalls: 1-45, 2-105,

3-122, 4-123, 5-123, 6-123, 7-137,

8-137, 9-138, 10-138.

Bowling Analysis

O M R W

Griffin 12 3 27 0

Goddard 11 3 25 0

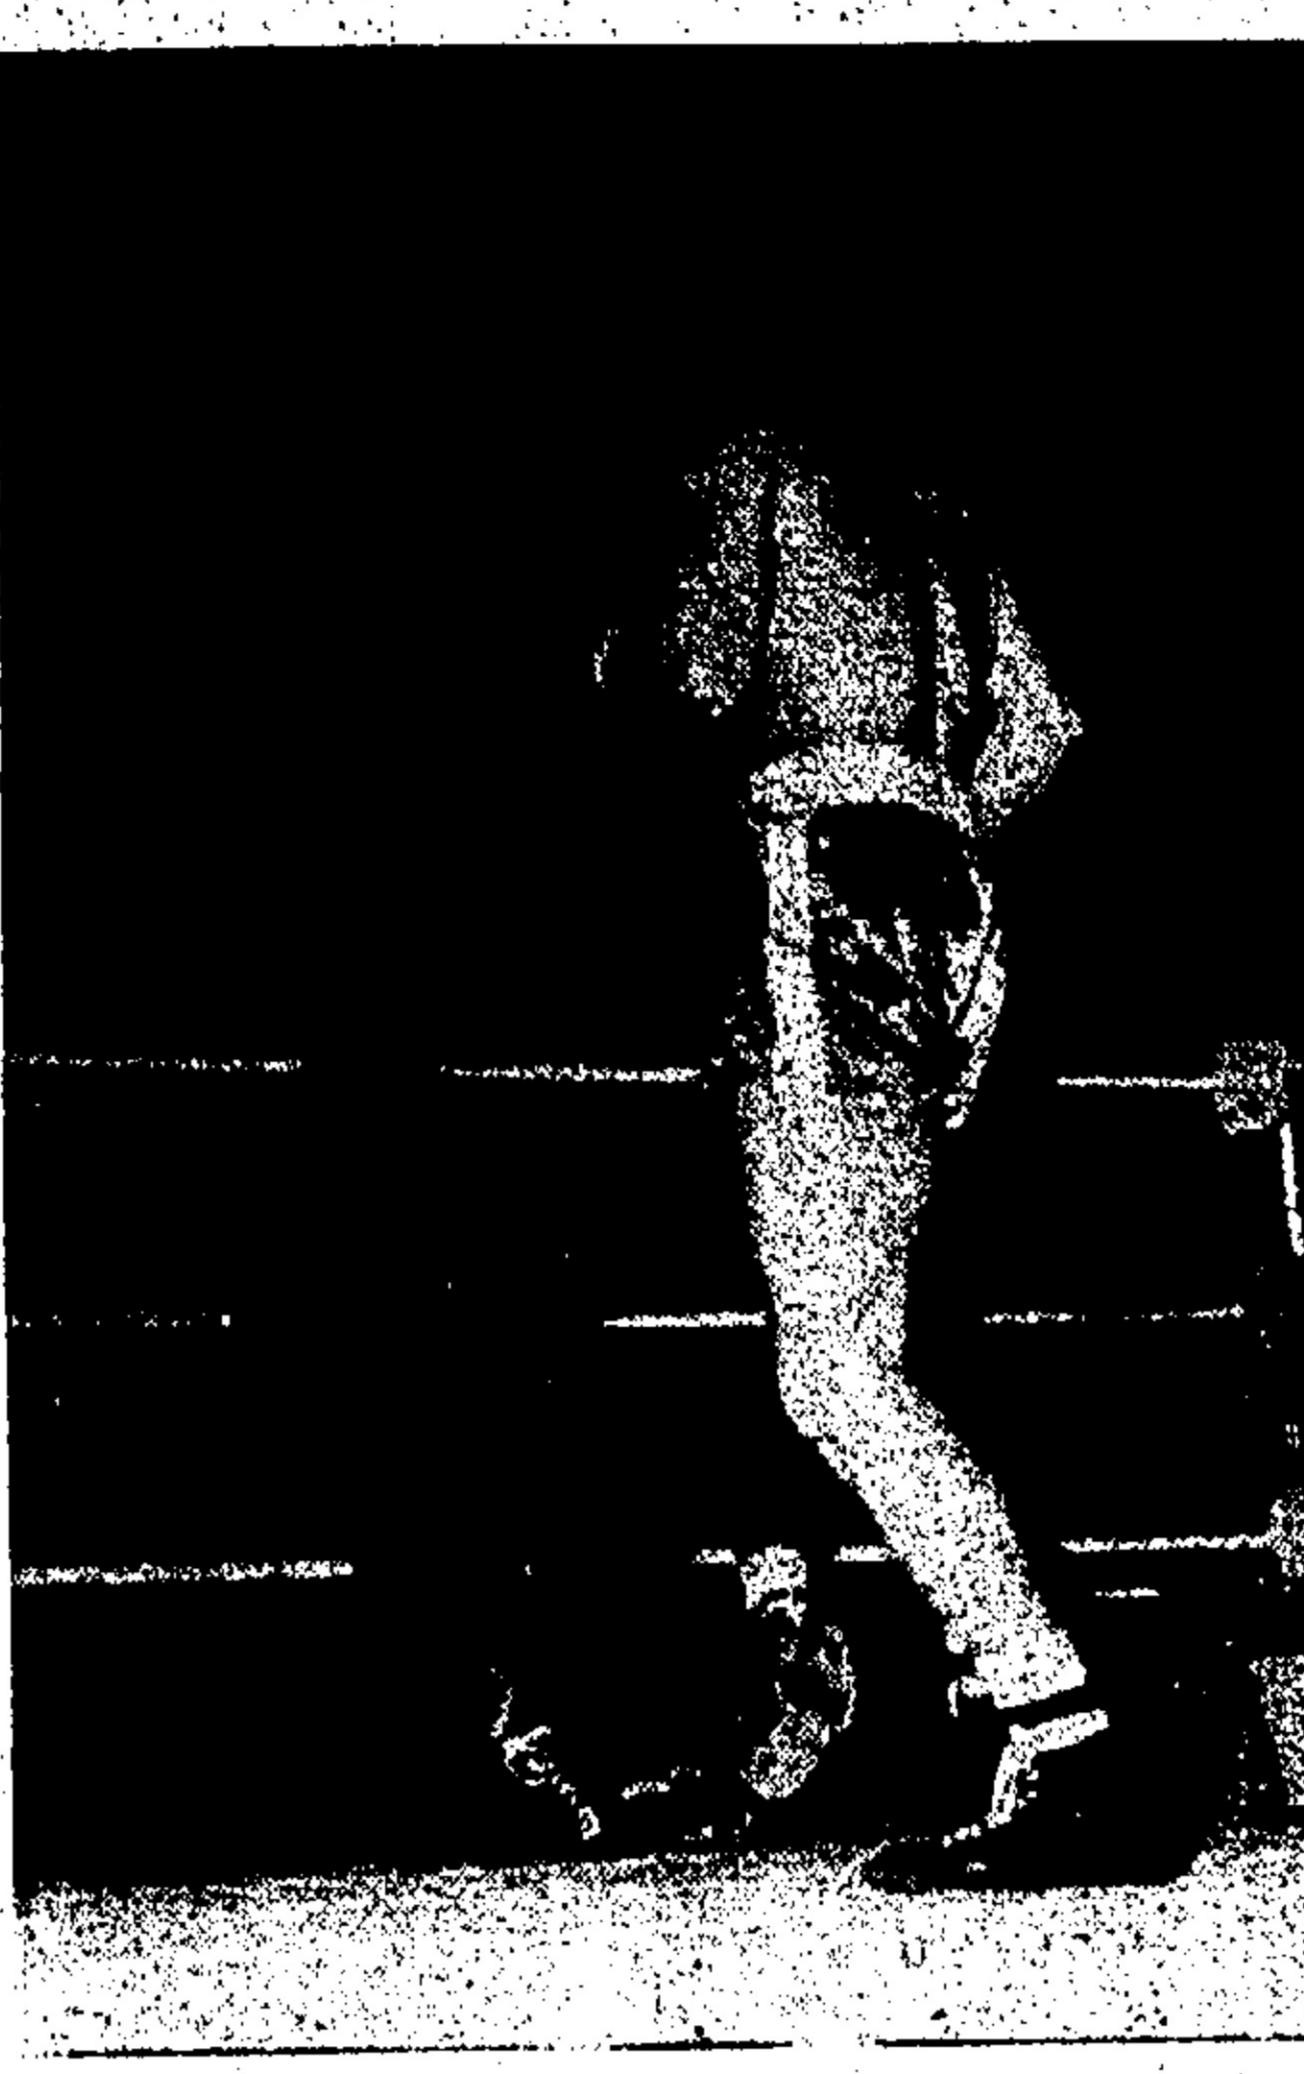

Fellowes-Smith 8 3 19 0

Tayfield 17 2 44 4

McKinnon 9 2 17 4

Reuter.

Back on world title path

JACK BRABHAM

TRIUMPHS IN DUTCH GRAND PRIX

Spectator killed during race

Zandvoort, June 6.

Jack Brabham, Australian holder of the World Driving Championship, gained his first points in the 1960 Championship today when he led throughout to win the 195-mile Dutch Grand Prix here.

A spectator, 18-year-old Piet Anders from Haarlem, was killed during the race when Dan Gurney's BRM skidded off the track into a sand dune.

Brabham, in a Works-entered Cooper, was untroubled after his arch rival, Stirling Moss, in a Lotus-Climax, fell behind after tyre trouble in the 15th lap.

Moss lost nearly three minutes while the tyre change was made in the pits and he dropped back to 11th. But he recovered by dashing driving and eventually finished fourth.

Moss fourth

Moss gained three World Championship points, bringing his total to 11 and putting him in second place, three behind New Zealand's Bruce McLaren. Brabham earned eight points.

The official result was:

1. Jack Brabham (Australia) in a Cooper, 2 hours 1 min 47.2 secs, average speed 154.923 kilometres per hour (98.2 mph).

2. Innes Ireland (Britain) in a Lotus, 2 hours 2 mins 11.2 secs.

3. Graham Hill of Britain in a BRM 2 hours 2 mins 43.8 secs.

4. Stirling Moss of Britain in a Lotus, 2 hours 2 mins 44.9 secs.

Fastest lap: Moss, 1 min 33.8 secs 160.952 kilometres per hour (100.02 mph).—Reuter.

Negresco wins Grand Prix

Du Printemps

Paris, June 6.

Negresco, a French colt recently bought by British owner Mr. Phil Ball, romped to a five-length victory in the £10,700 Grand Prix Du Printemps, run over 1½ miles at St Cloud here today.

Jockey Yves Saint-Martin forced Negresco in front at the start and stayed in front all the way.

M. Marcel Boussac's Parlament (Roger Poinelet) snatched second place by a neck after a photo-finish with M. Enrique Cruz Valer's Or du Rhin.

The late Prince Aly Khan's Captain Corcoran, ridden by Australian George Moore, was fourth—two lengths behind Or du Rhin.

Parimutuel dividends to a one-franc stake were: Win—5 francs 80 centimes. Places—2.50, 5.40 and 4.60 francs.—Reuter.

Soccer riot

Warsaw, June 6.

Spectators at a soccer match in Poznan hurled stones and bottles at police who tried to protect the referee after the game ended in a 0-0 tie.

The match was between second division teams from Warsaw and Poznan.

The police were reportedly to have quickly dispersed the "hoodlums" who took exception to the final result and arrested those responsible for attacking the police.—AFP.

English-style football enjoying a boom in British Columbia

Vancouver, June 4.

English-style football is enjoying another boom in British Columbia, which has dominated the Canadian football scene since the early 1900's. More than 6,000 players are registered with the British Columbia Football Commission, not counting those in schools or in several minor leagues in the interior of the province.

"No other area has the same depth in every age group," according to Mr. Dave Fryatt, the chairman of the commission.

British Columbia has won the Canadian Championship 15 times in the 27 years it has entered the competition since 1913, and teams from the province have an outstanding record against top British touring teams unmatched anywhere in Canada.

During the last four years, British Columbia has won twice, drawn once and lost once against first division teams of the English and Scottish Leagues.</p

Macao scooterites win Interport

HK TEAM BEATEN FOR FIRST TIME IN FOUR SUCCESSIVE SEASONS

By OLLY VAS

The Macao scooterites, ably led by tennis star Antonio de Assis Fong, a last-minute entrant, won the 'Piaggio' Interport Cup in the Fourth Annual Interport between Macao and Hong Kong, held at the 28 de Maio Stadium in Macao over the Whitsun holidays.

The twelve-strong Macao contingent put up some brilliant performances against the 22 Hongkong riders to triumph by an overall total of 153 points to Hongkong's 142.

Their victory is a particularly memorable one because the Cup had been won by Hongkong for three successive seasons and this was Macao's maiden win.

A holiday atmosphere prevailed throughout the day as the events, six in all, were run off. The weather was perfect, the ground bone-dry and the colourful bunting and loudspeaker music put the large crowd in the right mood.

To Hongkong's Albert Rosario went the honour of being the first competitor. Albert, however, did not do well enough to even place in the opening race, the Slow Race, in which the slowest time over a short course was recorded by Hongkong's F. M. Goldberg. His pillion maintained a sphinx-like countenance and balanced herself neatly and the judges timed them in 32.5 seconds. Mario Sequeira and Fong, both of Macao, took second and third places with 30 and 28.7 seconds respectively.

Clean pair of wheels

The second event saw experienced rider, H. C. "Ricky" Souza showing a clean pair of wheels to HK's J. J. Young and Macao's Fong.

In this Stop and Start Race the pillion-riders had to hop into a sack and make for the machines parked 20 yards away. Souza's companion leap-frogged his way to the back-seat and 'Ricky' then drove his GS to the mid-way line where he pulled up, manhandled the front wheel to toe the line and then shot off for the finishing mark to park his scooter with the line right between the wheels. The time was a fast 22.7 seconds. Young did it in 25.5 and Fong in 28 seconds flat.

The crowd got a few laughs off some of the pillion who lost their balance on the way to the machines. One passenger could not shake off a clinging sack and one Macao lady-pillion even sat on the tail-lights!

The third event proved hard for many of the teams. The strong winds blowing all over the field upset the timing of the pillions with the pointed lance. Four balloons were tied to poles. The pillion riders each had to pick up a lance stuck on the ground and while the driver manoeuvred his machine the passenger had to take stabs at the balloons to burst them. Fong and his pillion did it in 35 seconds and teammate Lo Chi-kok registered an identical time while HK's De Lange could only record 39 seconds.

The famed Bengal Lancers could have taken a tip or two from some of the pillions. Two young ladies even steered the balloons with one hand while pricking them with the lance held in the other hand. There is nothing in the rules anyway to say one cannot do this!

Perfect performance

The fourth event, which involved weaving among six bottles spaced a few yards apart, ducking one's head under a bar at eye-level, going up and down a see-saw and finally returning to the bottles, saw Macao's Amadeo Cordeiro putting up a perfect performance, without knocking over a single empty bottle, to take the honours.

His time was 30.8 seconds. HK's Goldberg did it in 31.6 and Mexico's Manolo Lopez registered 32.1 seconds. The Hongkong ladies' all-round whinnet in 1959, Miss Anna Ding and local rider George Huntley earned rounds of applause in this event but their times were not good enough to match those of the first three. Well-known soft sailor Arthur 'Pop' Olave almost gave up on the see-saw but pluckily tried again and went over smoothly to complete this Slalom course.

The fifth event, ice-skating over a rink, was a hard one for the drivers. They had Spinnakers are let out as Tally Ho (K 12) and Saluki (stripes) run before the wind in the Flying Dutchman class national championships held last week at Whitstable, Kent.—The Times photo.

Bookmakers make Mackay Wimbledon favourite at 5-2

London, June 6.
The bookmakers today made Barry Mackay, the 24-year-old American, a 5-2 favourite to win this year's men's tennis title at Wimbledon.

Neale Fraser of Australia is second favourite at 3-1. Rod Laver, the red-haired Australian who defeated Mackay in the semi-final last year, is third at 6-1.

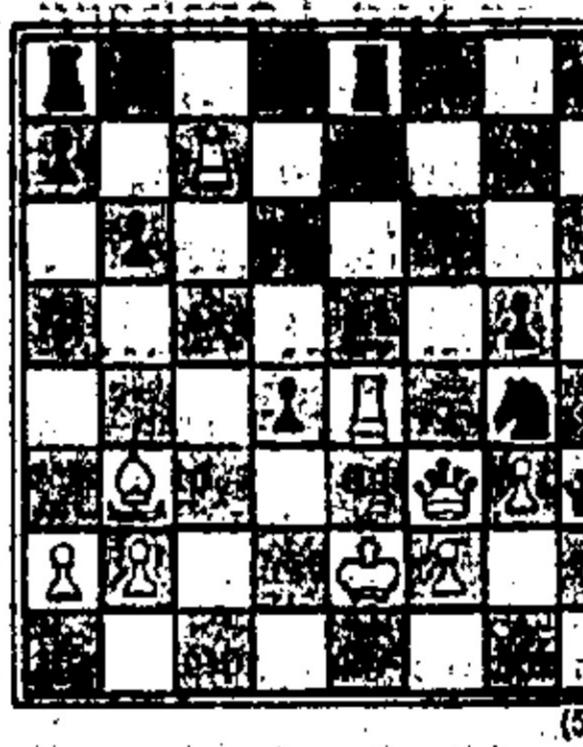

The Wimbledon fortnight lasts from June 20 to July 2. Odds being offered against other leading players were: Luis Ayala, (Chile), Earl Buchholz (U.S.A.), Ray Emerson, (Australia), Ramanathan Krishnamoorthy, (India), Nicola Pietrangeli, (Italy), all 8-1. Bernard Barthen (U.S.A.), André Gimeno (Spain), Ronald Holmberg (U.S.A.), all 10-1. Jan Erik Lundquist (Sweden), Bobby Wilson (Britain), all 12-1.

Mike Davies (Britain), Orlando Sirota (Italy), Ian Vermaak (South Africa), Jackie Brichant (Belgium), Billy Nielsen (Denmark), Ulf Schmidt (Sweden), all 18-1. Bob Mark (Australia), 20-1. Jaroslav Drobny (self-exiled Czech), Budge Patty (Paris and Los Angeles), 33-1. AP

CHESS

by LEONARD BÄRDEN

Here is a position from actual play: White to move and force mate in six.
Solution No. 5331: 1. Kt-Q2 (threat 2. Kt-B3), QxKt; 2. R-K7, or 1... Q-Q4; 2. RxQ, or 1... KtxKt; 2. P-B4, or 1... KxKt; 2. B-B6.

London Express Service

Sugar Ray ready for Pender fight

Boston, June 6.
A confident Sugar Ray Robinson arrived today in Boston where he will try to regain his controversial world middleweight boxing title for the fifth time on Friday night in a rematch bout with Paul Pender.

The winner, however, will only be officially recognised by the States, of New York and Massachusetts. As far as the National Boxing Association is concerned, Gene Fullmer will still be the world champion in this weight class.

Asked if he planned to change his ring tactics this time against Pender, Robinson laughed: "Yeah, I'd like to hit him a little more often."

Nine Japanese motor-cycle dealers leave for TT race

Robinson has never been licked in a rematch. Pender beat him on points last January.

"I think I'm in better condition now than I was last time," the former world champion added.

"Before I met Pender the last time," Robinson said, "I had been inactive for 21 months. Since then I've had another bout and put in about 45 rounds of sparring. Pender may feel more sure of himself and I'll wait for him if he comes at me."

Sugar Ray declared he would never fight against Fullmer. "He's not for me," Robinson said. "The NBA has always been under the control of Jim Norris and his gang." AFP

Baseball results

New York, June 7.
Today's baseball results included:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Chicago ... 20 17 430 -

New York ... 20 17 430 -

Pierce, Stacey (2-1); Donovan (9)

and Lollar; Ford and Howard

W-Staley (6-1); L-Ford (3-4).

Home runs—New York (18),

Baltimore ... 103-100-105-5-8-16

East, Krallie (4); Lee (8); Fischer

(7) and Nagore; Estrada and Courtney, W-Estrada (6-1); L-Kast

Home runs—Baltimore, Gentile (7).

League Standings

AMERICAN LEAGUE

W L P GB

Baltimore ... 20 17 430 -

Cleveland ... 20 20 464 -

Chicago ... 20 20 464 -

New York ... 21 21 412 -

Detroit ... 20 21 400 -

Kansas City ... 19 25 422 -

Washington ... 15 25 413 -

Boston ... 15 25 385 -

AP

Sports Diary

TO-DAY

Monday

Colombia Open Championship: Open

Singles first round match at Bogota, KCC v. EBCO, KFC, HKCC, FLC, INC, HKCC

Tennis: "Open" tournament, singles (1)

CRC (1) v. HKU, FAP v. HKCC

(1); Escrivo (8) v. HKCC, KTGCA

v. SCMA (1);

Swimming: HKCC (1) v. LRC, Re-

KTC (2), SCMA (2), HKCC v.

KTC

Ladies' "B" Division: CRC v.

KCC, LAC (1) v. LRC (3).

COURTESY OF THE NEW YORK TIMES

AP

COLLECTION AND DELIVERY SERVICE

THE STEAM LAUNDRY CO.

No. 1, Kowloon Wall Street, Kowloon

POPULAR PUBLICATIONS

The Hong Kong Countryside	$25.00
The Hong Kong Story	10.00
Chinese Crafts & Customs Vol. I	18.00
Chinese Crafts & Customs Vol. II	18.00
Chinese Crafts & Customs Vol. III	18.00
Baby Book	25.00
Express Annual	5.00
Super Magazines	1.00
Tell Points About People	1.50
Picture Judging Guide	1.50
Gifts Annual	4.50
Hong Kong Standard Yearbook	15.00
Comics	1.00

On Sale At SOUTH CHINA MORNING POST LTD.
MONDAY

JOHN HASTIE & CO., LTD.

SHIPS STEERING GEAR.

ENGINEERING EQUIPMENT CO., LTD.

208 Chatered Bank Building Tel. 27789

CHINA MAIL

Page 10

TUESDAY, JUNE 7, 1960.

Sheaffer's

Newest

BALL POINT PEN

AVAILABLE AT ALL GOOD STORES

BANK TO BUILD IN KOWLOON'S GOLDEN MILE

Tropical storm latest

The Bank of East Asia Ltd plans to erect an 11-storey building costing $1,300,000 in the Mongkok area of Kowloon. This was stated by Mr D. A. L. Wright in the Tenancy Tribunal Court this morning.

(Continued from Page 1)
There were no schools for children today. By a standing order from the Director of Education to the school authorities whenever a No. 3 or stronger storm signal is hoisted parents are asked not to send their children to schools.

The General Certificate of Education Oral French Examination scheduled to take place at King George V School today was postponed till Friday.

However, those students scheduled to take part in the examination tomorrow will have to appear on time, provided the storm is over.

Postponed also was the local School Certificate Examination.

Many thousands of pupils were due to take the exam.

Many social gatherings, and sports events this evening will have to be postponed.

The Pakistan Club dinner due to be held at Cosmo Restaurant tonight is cancelled.

Scanty

So far rainfall has been scanty.

The Royal Observatory spokesman told the China Mail that rainfall from midnight until 10 a.m. was only 0.42 of an inch.

The total amount of rain from January 1 till 10 a.m. today was 15.51 inches compared with the average of 25.90 inches.

The heaviest shower occurred between 9 a.m. and 10 a.m.

Cancelled

The meeting of the English-speaking Department of the Young Women's Christian Association, at which German films were to have been shown, this afternoon, has been cancelled.

Visitors see furniture exhibition

A group of 150 members of the American Institute of Interior Decoration saw an exhibition of modern furniture that was "different" this morning.

It was staged in the Convention hall of the Miramar Hotel under the auspices of the Hong Kong Tourist Association and the individual exhibitors.

Though Chinese influence predominated, the items shown were a unique blend of what is best in East and West tradition ranging from a huge, hand-beaten brass gong, 46 inches in diameter, to exquisite copies of Ming furniture in natural blackwood.

This evening the group of visitors will be entertained to cocktails and will meet many of the Colony's leading architects.

When it was learned in Hong Kong a few weeks ago that this group would visit the Colony in the course of a sightseeing tour of the Far East, the exhibition was arranged to show what Hong Kong offered in interior decoration.

During their stay the group will be shown round various factories which made the exhibits they saw today.

They will go to Bangkok and New Delhi before returning to the United States.

Mr. R. H. J. Braat, Manager of

THE NETHERLANDS TRADING SOCIETY

regrets that due to the prevailing weather condition, the Cocktail Party at the Reception Room Gloucester Hotel this evening at 6.30 p.m. has been postponed to next Tuesday, 14th June 18.30 to 20.00 at the Gloucester Hotel.

LOMBARD INSURANCE MEETING Chairman tells of two encouraging features

The Chairman of the Consulting Committee of the Lombard Insurance Co Ltd noted at the annual general meeting this morning that there were "two encouraging features" in the company's operations last year.

11 opponents

There are 11 opponents. They include the owners of a noodle restaurant and a spare parts shop.

The Tribunal consists of President, Mr Lim Chee Quan, Mr Percival W. Mansfield and Mr Rudy Choy.

NEW BUILDING FOR KOWLOON

The Tenancy Tribunal was told this morning of a plan for a new six-storey building in Shanghai Street to replace the present four-storey wooden structures.

The plan was revealed in an application for exemption of 337-9 Shanghai Street from the Landlord and Tenant Ordinance.

Mr P. T. Yu, representing the applicant, Mr Leung Koon-lin, said the new building, if the application was approved, would be completed in eight months and would cost $120,000. The old structures, he added, were built 35 years ago.

Thirty-six occupants of the present premises are opposing the application.

They are represented by Mr Terence Shurlock and Mr Richard Winter, on the instructions of Messrs Edmundi Cheung and Co, Hastings and Co, and Hon and Co.

The Tribunal comprises Mr B. V. Rhodes (President), Mr Henry Chung and Mr C. H. Richardson.

Hearing is continuing.

MANAGER FINED

Kwok Hing-tong, Assistant Manager of Singon and Co at 37 Hung Lung Street, ground floor, was fined $1,000 by Mr I. T. Morris at Central Magistrate's Court this morning for pickpocketing.

Inspector Wong Hei-man said that on Sunday the defendant was walking along Mongkok Road when he deliberately bumped into the complainant and picked a pen from his pocket.

He was arrested by the owner, Mok King-sau.

Defendant, who had 13 previous convictions, was ordered to be placed under police supervision after his release from prison.

PICKPOCKET JAILED

A 23-year-old unemployed man, Ho Kau described by the Magistrate as a professional thief was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment by Mr E. S. Heydon at Kowloon Court this morning for pickpocketing.

Inspector Wong Hei-man said that on Sunday the defendant was walking along Mongkok Road when he deliberately bumped into the complainant and picked a pen from his pocket.

He was arrested by the owner, Mok King-sau.

Defendant, who had 13 previous convictions, was ordered to be placed under police supervision after his release from prison.

Replies to correspondents

N. T. Chow: Don't understand you. Ed.

New command for Docker's skipper

London, June 6.
Captain Hector Edward Tourtel, former master of British industrialist Sir Bernard Docker's yacht Sherman, is to command a Belgian millionaire's luxury yacht.

The other feature, Mr Barton added, was that the premium income in the accident department had passed the $2 million mark for the first time and had in fact more than doubled in the last five years.

Profit

The company made a net profit of $1,071,435. After making allowance for transfers, the amount left for payment of dividend of $2 a share totalled $767,848, and a balance of $801,517 to be carried forward.

The report and accounts were adopted.

The following were re-elected members of the Consulting Committee: Mr M. W. Lo, Mr J. D. Clague, Mr D. Black, Mr L. Kadone, Mr F. S. Li, Mr W. A. Stewart.

Messrs Lowe, Bingham and Matthews were re-appointed auditors.

Small church offerings

Liverpool, June 6.
Dr John Heenan, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Liverpool, criticised the "absurdly small" offerings received on collection plates.

In a pastoral letter read at all his churches, the archbishop said: "How in good conscience can wage-earners put coppers on the plate when they pay three or four shillings for a cigarette?"—China Mail Special.

At one time threepence or sixpence was quite a generous offering. Today it is an absurdly small gift.

"I cannot help thinking that if Roman Catholics all did their duty there would be less need to seek money from games of chance or even second collections."—China Mail Special.

Yu Lai-chi, of 19 Lower Lane, Kai Yuen Terrace, had pleaded guilty last Monday and was remanded until this morning for a probation officer's report.

Yu also made restitution to the owner of the ring this morning.

FACTORY FIRE

A small quantity of camphor was damaged in a fire which broke out in a factory in Chai Wan Settlement Area at noon today.

On receiving the call at 12.07 p.m. the Fire Brigade despatched a crew.

The fire, which was brought under control, did not put out at about 1.30 p.m. and the cause of the fire was not yet known.

No injuries were reported.

Macao Bishop

Singapore, June 7.
The Roman Catholic Bishop of Macao, the Rev. Polcarpo da Costa Vaz, was expected to return here from Malacca today. He will spend two days here before returning to Macao.

The bishop has spent the past three days in Malacca where he has been on a promotional tour and other church functions.

No details were reported.

Proud Briton' controversy rages on

I think that the replies received by you to the Briton who said he was proud of being so indicate just how wide the divergence is between the "cousins" on both sides of the Atlantic.

When reading these replies it is difficult to believe that it was an American who once said "I disagree with what he says, but will lay down my life for his right to say it."

It is this ignorance or disregard for the convictions of others that makes "Life with (the) Father" (image) so difficult.

One of your replies says that it was the U.S. moral sense on the Suez issue that caused her to align herself with the Soviet Union against Britain at that time.

This takes a little swallowing, especially when we read the following in a leading U.S. journal (Saturday Evening Post) in recent weeks.

"The Canal is essential to our defence as well as our economy and it will be as long as warships sail the seas—we cannot give a little here and a little there, until finally all our rights, power and authority are gone. Some day soon we have got to die our heels in and make a stand."

In this Britain speaking on Suez No. 1 in the U.S. on the critical situation in the Republic of Panama. Where is this great moral sense now?

Another correspondent in an attempt to justify the U.S.-U-2 incident attempts a "you too" line by referring to the Commander Crabb mystery.

However, he fails to continue the equation so let us do it for him. The Crabb affair was never the subject of several contradictory official statements before being announced by the Head of State as State policy and that it would continue.

It was not conducted from "allied" soil. Current publications and disclosures would all seem to allege that this too was a "reconnaissance" organised by another country.

Yet another democratic correspondent subtly (?) hints that your circulation might suffer if you permit free speech in your columns.

This appalling piece of impudence and complete misjudgment of how a democratic country should run its newspapers deserves swift consignment to the waste-paper basket. As support for the aforesaid great moral sense it could well be done without.

dear sir

Mr Truman in the latest "Look" magazine says that some British generals "found it hard... to have an American general put in complete command of allied forces" and that this led them to give misleading versions of events in their books.

May we ask why it must always be an American in complete command? In all sincerity are we asked to believe that the wealth of talent available in the United States automatically assures this?

Are we asked to believe that such selections are made on the basis of a dispassionate survey of generals of all the allies, purely on their records of ability, battle experience and leadership, and that encouraging public opinion and support is never considered?

We have got used to reading that Britain must now accustom herself to playing a secondary role in world affairs, but how long must we wait for the U.S. to get used to playing the primary role?

How long will it be before she acts with a sense of responsibility towards her allies, and shows her awareness that her actions may well affect their very existence?

"No taxation without representation" today has been changed to read "No privilege without responsibility."

CHANG SAN LEE SSU.

dear sir

Bad manners

Please allow another Briton who is proud of it to tender his public apologies to Mr Hazzard and the group of ladies at the Peninsula Hotel for the offensive and, I assure you, totally unrepresentative, viciousness displayed by your previous correspondents in their lamentable display of bad manners.

TIGGER.

Not yet learned

The last words of Edith Cavell before she was shot by a German firing squad in the first world war were, "Patriotism is not enough."

This is a lesson that most people (Proud Briton and all the proud of other nationality) have not yet learned.

Gleaning facts from incomplete records is not good.

A better picture could have been got from reports of the subsequent trial.

I write not to carp but in the interest of the accurate presentation of Hongkong history.

H.

dear sir

Wanchai fight

I regret to have to write to tell you that the story of the gunfire in Wanchai China Mall (Monday Page 6) is inaccurate in many respects.

Gleaning facts from incomplete records is not good.

A better picture could have been got from reports of the subsequent trial.

I write not to carp but in the interest of the accurate presentation of Hongkong history.

H.

What's in a name?

San Bernardino, Calif., June 8.

John R. Pigg and James Dean Hogg met on Saturday night on a highway.

Hogg left with a traffic citation from Pigg, a highway patrolman—UPI.

What's in a name?

San Bernardino, Calif., June 8.

John R. Pigg and James Dean Hogg met on Saturday night on a highway.

Hogg left with a traffic citation from Pigg, a highway patrolman—UPI.

What's in a name?

San Bernardino, Calif., June 8.

John R. Pigg and James Dean Hogg met on Saturday night on a highway.

Hogg left with a traffic citation from Pigg, a highway patrolman—UPI.

What's in a name?

San Bernardino, Calif., June 8.

John R. Pigg and James Dean Hogg met on Saturday night on a highway.

Hogg left with a traffic citation from Pigg, a highway patrolman—UPI.